

New Labor Crisis Developing in Daly City

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Daly City is facing its second labor crisis in less than a month today — this time by firemen who are unhappy over the disparity in pay between their department and police.

The disparity resulted from the recent pay and fringe benefit resolution adopted last month by the City Council.

Of the total 63 men assigned to the Daly City department, more than one-third (27) have applied for jobs in the neighboring San Francisco fire department since the resolution was unanimously passed.

The complex pay and fringe benefit resolution, which gave most municipal employees a five per cent across-the-board increase (including firemen) and favored police with a ten per cent pay hike, triggered San Mateo County's first strike of municipal employees, which ended after three bitter weeks when the city made certain concessions.

And while firemen are forbidden to strike or walk off the job without due cause, the council was told Monday night that a retention of trained personnel in Daly City was becoming increasingly difficult as a result of the new pay scale.

Marin Attorney Richard Herndon, representing the Firemen's Benevolent Association, presented a voluminous brief and supporting data to the council condemning the new pay disparity between police and firemen and pointing up ways to bring them up to snuff with departments in surrounding communities.

Herndon said the adopted pay resolution "was all the more surprising" because of its radical departure from recommendations of the Personnel Board made on June 13, 1968. In their recommendations to the council, the Personnel Board said uniform salary increases should be given all city employees.

At subsequent council meetings, however, it was explained by officials that police should be given more money because of recruitment problems (there are ten vacancies in the department, none in the fire department).

The truth of the matter, according to Herndon, is that while police have experienced 20 additional manpower slots in the last two years the fire department went up by only seven positions.

Herndon said it was not true more firemen apply for jobs than police. He pointed out that while police administered ten tests in the past two years the fire department (which tests every two years) only gave two tests.

On an annual basis, those applying for tests are almost identical, but police have more budgeted slots, thus disproving statements concerning volume of applications, according to Herndon.

What is "killing" the department is the retention of trained personnel.

The attorney said a steady stream of firemen have left the department since 1963 and predicted "this exodus will continue."

Daly City is one of the few cities in the Bay Area that has a disparity between police and fire. Voters turned thumbs down on such a measure years ago and the law now provides for overall parity between police and firemen.

And even though a Daly City fireman may accept $16 less if he goes to work in San Francisco, his morale is higher and his chances of getting ahead are better, Herndon said.

"Do you want to turn Daly City into a training ground for San Francisco?" Herndon asked the council, and answered his own question with: "you are asking firemen to work longer hours for less pay."

He went on to support this with facts and figures compiled during a two month period, including the fact that Daly City firemen may make more money on a monthly basis than do some other communities, but their hourly wage is far below most other departments.

The council took the information under submission for study and made no comment on the matter.

MUNICIPAL STRIKE

Still Bitterness On Both Sides in D.C.

The Daly City municipal employees' strike has ended, but in its wake is bitterness and wounds on both sides that may never heal.

Even during the final reading of an amended resolution at last week's regular council meeting that would hike 39 employees' pay by 2½ per cent and give all an expanded dependent health care, bitter words charged the air.

Frank Gillis, Local 919, American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees' business representative, struck up an unsmiling exchange of heated rhetoric with City Attorney Albert Polonsky over wording in the proposed resolution.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett quickly calmed the flareup and, after several minutes of deliberation, the council agreed to reword the section pertaining to assignments of certain personnel by the city manager.

But the concession did little to soothe Gillis' ruffled feelings. After the resolution was passed, the veteran union leader addressed the council and said, "The only ray of sunshine is the fact the people will be going back to work."

And he said there were wounds that will never heal, wounds inflicted by the council. "We tried to have meetings with you to head off this strike," Gillis charged, adding, "they were never held."

Gillis said it was his hope that the union would not have to resort to such action in the future in an effort to convince the council to meet and confer on such matters, but he promised that members would once again walk out, "if it becomes necessary."

Mayor Lycett agreed with Gillis that "there are wounds all over the place."

"I'm not going to accept the statement that it is our (the council) fault these wounds are there. We have never refused to meet and confer with anyone. I repeat, we have never refused to talk to anyone," Mayor Lycett said.

In the mayor's opinion: "Anyone who says they want a strike has got to have a hole in his head."

He said both sides must share the blame in the strike and said the council would "do everything possible" in reaching an amicable settlement in the future.

A capacity audience attended the early morning session — held less than 12 hours after the local's membership was informed of the latest city offer.

If the meeting did anything, it split the municipal employees ever farther apart. The vote to accept the proposal was 36 to 30, with some of the membership not attending Tuesday night's session.

Many employees wanted more than the five per cent across-the-board increase they got. This hike actually applied only to 39 employees presently working 37½ hours per week. Those working 40 hours were given a similar hike earlier.

And the $4 city contribution to a r d s dependant medical care was deemed totally inadequate by others. This was an entirely new proposal offered by the city.

Further, the city agreed to hold off on the mandatory retirement at age 65 for about two years, thus "saving" a handful of city employees.

The average employee earning $610 "lost" about $550 in the three-week strike. If it is possible to weigh monetary gains against similar losses, the employee came away short.

But even those employees who voted to return to work will quickly deny they "lost" anything.

As one woman said as she put away her picket sign after the voting: "We showed a lot of people that city hall can be fought — even from the inside."

Just Inconvenience

Little Effect On City's Operations

Aside from some immeasurable inconveniences to Daly City citizens, the now-settled three-week strike of municipal employees had little effect on city operations.

At least this is what the department heads and city officials claim after thumbing through the performance charts for the past three weeks.

There were water meters that were not read, and consequently water bills that haven't been mailed yet. (There have been few complaints about this, however, city officials noted.)

And painting of street markings and patching has been delayed for the three weeks of the duration of the strike.

Trees look like some of the shaggy kids who hang around Daly City's parks because no one was around to give them (the trees) their annual haircut.

Over in the finance department, librarians did their level best to keep afloat, but this department will suffer from a heavy workload for several days, Assistant City Manager Dave Rowe confided.

There isn't any "official thinking" as yet on where the money will come from to pay for those hikes and expanded employee benefits, but Rowe said, "The tax rate will not be raised — at least not this year."

No Criminal Action Seen Over Housing

Action taken by the County Grand Jury Monday following a briefing on alleged irregularities in the office of the county Housing Authority indicated that the jury has no plans to consider voting criminal indictments in the case.

Foreman Henry M. Nissen said the jury adopted a resolution, which will not be made available until tomorrow. He refused to comment on what the resolution contains, as did District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson.

It was believed, however, that the jury would not have adopted a resolution on the subject if there were any plans for indictments.

South S.F. Head Start Lacks Funds

South San Francisco's Head Start program is scheduled to begin October 1, and already the project is threatened by a shortage of funds, Economic Opportunity Commissioner Antonio Montoya said Monday.

"We now have 32 children enrolled in a program financed to handle 20," he said.

The project is scheduled to operate on a budget of $34,985, $18,410 of which is to be contributed by the federal government.

"Unless we can raise additional money on the local level, some of the children will have to be eliminated from the program," Montoya said.

Montoya and EOC representative Hugo Urioste are seeking volunteers to serve in such positions as drivers and teachers' aids to help implement the program.

San Bruno's Crime Unit Meets Today

The San Bruno Crime Prevention Committee will hold the first of four public hearings tonight at 8 at the Engvall School, chairman Paul Baldwin announced Tuesday.

The meeting will be held to hear from residents of the Rollingwood — Crestmoor area.

When the committee was formed several weeks ago, City Council instructed the unit to hold public hearings in separate sections of San Bruno, to obtain a cross-section of views on law enforcement problems and needs.

Formed in August, the committee was given 90 days in which to report on its hearings, studies, findings and recommendations to the council.

The committee has been charged with investigating four specific areas:

- Law enforcement personnel
- Necessary legislation
- Law enforcement equipment
- Public responsibility in aid of law enforcement

Each councilman selected one member of the committee and Baldwin, principal of Peninsula High School, a non-resident of San Bruno, was unanimously selected by the council to act as chairman.

The Crime Prevention Committee has met on three separate occasions and has heard Police Chief Russell Cunningham and his staff explain their present function in the City.

The Committee is now prepared to hear from the general residency of San Bruno and has set the following meetings at the respective locations:

Wednesday, September 18, the Committee will meet at Engvall School to hear residents from the Rollingwood — Crestmoor area.

On September 26, the Belle Air School, will be the site of (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Billy Swartfager Blind D.C. Donor of Dog Meets Canine War Hero

Another Story On Page 12

Things are happening almost too fast for a young Colma boy who last week donated his dog — Star — to the United States Air Force for eventual duty in Vietnam.

Billy Swartfager, a blind 14-year-old Jefferson High School student, did his unselfish act because his older brother, Tom, is en route to that war-torn country "and I really felt Star might be able to save his life."

Billy said he had heard a commercial sponsored by the Air Force, trying to recruit German Shepherd dogs in the area and decided to donate his best friend and companion, Star.

Air Force officials also thought the act deserved more than just passing thanks and Thursday Billy was introduced to the nation's top canine war hero — a German Shepherd named Nemo.

Like Young Billy, Nemo's sight is impaired. The Air Force guard dog was shot in the right jaw and eye by a Viet Cong soldier who was trying to kill Nemo's handler, Airman Second Class S. Thornberg.

The military credits Nemo with saving the young airman's life and many others at Tan Son Nhut Air Base by leaping at the Viet Cong suicide attacker and alerting the entire base to his presence while on a routine patrol on December 4, 1966.

Nemo was awarded the Purple Heart and Unit Citation in appropriate ceremonies and was flown back to the United States for treatment of his wounds.

He is now in retirement at Lackland Air Force Base and travels around the country recruiting other canines.

What Nemo did for his Airman handler in Vietnam is exactly the thing Billy hopes Star will perhaps someday do for another human — save his life.

And even though Star was his best friend and "I'll sure miss him . . . I do right now" the youngster decided to let him be sworn into the military.

The Air Force said Billy's dog wouldn't be returned, once they are trained for guard duty they are simply retired after their tours of duty — in about eight years.

The youth is now learning to use a white cane to get around and is a B average student at school.

Would he like another dog someday? "Boy, you bet I would," is Billy's quick reply.

OVER 650 persons participated in a massive beach clean-up operation in Pacifica Saturday and they removed some 40-tons of litter that included truckloads of tin cans and other debris, in addition to numerous un-earthed shopping carts. Other pictures

S.S.F. Youth Times-Post Grid Winner

A College of San Mateo freshman student is the first week's winner in The Times-Post annual Football Contest.

Robert Youshock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Youshock, 517 Poplar Avenue, South San Francisco, correctly picked the results of 13 out of 15 football contests. He will receive two tickets to the California-Stanford Big Game.

One other entrant picked the outcome of 13 games correctly, but Youshock has the nearest estimate of net yards made by the San Francisco 49ers in their Sunday game. Youshock's estimate was 355, while Kurt Ruskak of San Mateo guessed 397 yards. Actual yardage was 272.

Twenty-six contestants correctly picked 12 inners.

Since there was no cash winner this week, the prize for correctly selecting 15 winners grows to $100, with an extra $50 bonus for Times-Post subscribers.

Entry blanks are available in today's Post. Entries must be mailed prior to Thursday night.

Eastman Daly City EOC Representative

Ed Eastman, one of the prime movers in establishment of an information and referral center in Daly City, has been named to represent Daly City on the Economic Opportunity Commission.

The appointment was unanimously approved by the city council last week during a regular meeting.

Eastman came to California in 1948 and has lived in the San Francisco and Daly City area since that time. He participated in the special committee which compiled the background information and formal application for the information and referral center in the city.

Eastman served as vice chairman of the board of directors of the center and as a member of the executive commission during the first year of its operation.

He has also held several positions in the Community Interaction Through You (CITY), a local civic action group, and is currently president of that organization.

Eastman is employed by the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings and resides with his family at 173 Santa Barbara Avenue.

In announcing the appointment, Mayor Bernard Lycett noted Eastman would be filling a post left vacant by the late Mrs. Ann Eason.

"He has some big shoes to fill," the mayor said.

Baldwin invited residents of all ages to participate in the program, giving their views, criticisms, suggestions and other information that might be helpful to the city but their general area of the city but to San Bruno as a whole, to aid the law enforcement agency for the benefit of all residents.

Representatives from the business community also have been invited to attend the sessions.

The meetings and speakers are not limited to the geographical area in which they are held and all persons are invited to attend, but emphasis will be placed on the problems in the area where the committee meets, Baldwin said.

Lynch Services Are No Criminal Set Wednesday Action Seen Over Housing

A requiem mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. today for Alfred R. Lynch, 50, former Pacifica elementary schoolteacher, who died of a heart attack at his home, 752 Noriega Street, Pacifica, Saturday.

The mass will be offered at St. Peter's Church, 700 Oddstad Boulevard, Pacifica. Interment at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma, will follow.

Lynch led a battle in the schoolroom and outside over the past ten years against pornography, obscenity and the banning of Christmas carols, trees, and prayers from the schools.

Lynch's battle to keep Christmas in the schools and prayer in the classroom reached epic proportions; but it also resulted in his teacher's certificate being revoked by the San Mateo County Board of Education.

The late Assemblyman Louis Francis once appointed Lynch to a two-year term as associate member of the Republican State Central Committee.

A native of Detroit, he grew up in Cleveland, the son of a city fireman, and the eldest of three children. He attended the University of Detroit and was graduated from San Francisco State College in 1954.

From 1942 to 1946, he served in the Navy Air Corps as an aviation metalsmith; after World War II, he was a manufacturer's representative and sales manager for a picture distributor, before returning to college.

After graduation, he taught a year in Richmond, then came to Pacifica, where for ten years he taught in the Laguna Salada District.

He was concerned, he told a reporter at that time, about a need for good teachers and about what was happening in the schools, when he entered the teaching profession, giving up his salesman's role.

Prayers at milk and cracker time were banned; the Bible could not be used in school; and moral and spiritual values were played down, Lynch said. He claimed teachers were closely watched at Christmas time.

As early as 1963, Lynch's personal crusade for morality and spiritual values resulted in strong criticism.

In November of that year, he filed a $375,000 libel suit against a coastside newspaper for stating that he was a "self-appointed guardian of the reading public's morals; self-styled crusader," and quoting opponents as saying he was a "radical" and a "fanatic."

Lynch again hit the headlines in 1964, when, after approval for two Christmas Pageants was denied by the Laguna Salada District, he appeared before that board and the county board to voice his objections.

He also stayed away from his teaching assignments for three months, stating the strain caused a heart condition.

School trustees, in seven lengthy sessions, won revocation of his teacher's certificate, charging unprofessional conduct, in 1966.

During his defense, Lynch contended that his opposition to the appearance of Communist Mickey Lima on the College of San Mateo campus in 1964 had as much to do with the case as his teaching.

He had acted, he said, as Americanism chairman for the Pacifica Post of the American Legion.

Later Lynch taught eighth grade girls at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Pacifica. He also was president of the St. Vincent De Paul Society of that parish.

Married briefly during 1953-'54, Lynch was the father of daughter, Peggy Ann, who lives with her mother in Detroit.

Find Body Of Infant

The body of a newly born male infant was found on the lawn of a residence in the Sunshine Garden area of South San Francisco Sunday afternoon.

Police said the body, about 20 inches in length, was spotted by a teen-age boy at 5:15 p.m. Officers said coroner's officials are attempting to determine whether the child was stillborn, or died shortly after being born.

The youth who spotted the body lives across the street from the residence where the dead infant was located, police said.

Robert E. Carey, submitted to the jury the results of their investigation of the Housing Authority operation last night. No witnesses were called.

Sorenson had stated previously that Gaston Periat Sr., a Housing Authority director who resigned two weeks ago, was in violation of conflict of interest laws in the leasing and selling of three automobiles to the Authority. Among other findings in a report he submitted to the County Board of Supervisors, Sorenson said that Floyd Atha, maintenance superintendent at Midway Village housing project in Daly City, was illegally operating a refrigerator rental business during duty hours. The district attorney said, however, that there was no criminal responsibility in the Atha case.

Atha announced last month that he has abandoned his refrigerator rental business.

S.S.F. Council Grants Gas Firm Permit

South San Francisco councilmen Monday upheld the appeal of Westborough developer Thomas Callan, and overturned a planning commission decision denying a use permit for a service station at the corner of Callan Boulevard and King Drive in West Park Three.

Planning commissioners voted to deny the service station permit last month on grounds such an enterprise would represent an "unneeded use" in the area and a "detriment to the neighborhood."

Commissioners acted upon the recommendation of City Planner Daniel Pass and a number of neighborhood residents in denying the permit.

Pass pointed out the area is already served by three gasoline stations, with two more in the planning stages.

In overturning the planning commission decision, councilmen noted that one of the existing service stations cited by planners is located in Daly City, and therefore "not pertinent in any consideration of a permit for a South San Francisco business."

Mayor Frank Bertucelli, who is himself a service station operator, and other council members also questioned the city's right to "interfere in private enterprise without more justification than is present in this case."

Callan and Union Oil Co., representative Norman Miller assured councilmen the new station will be designed for a "residential neighborhood," and will be consistent with the Westborough planned community concept.

Callan also pointed out that the site was originally designated for commercial use when the council approved the planned community, and "all we are asking you to do now is reaffirm an earlier decision."

A small grocery market will also be established on the site, in conjunction with the service station.

Planning commissioners had expressed no opposition to the planned market.

In other business Monday, the council awarded a contract for "Colma Creek bank stabilization" to the L. C. Smith Co.

The firm's bid of $16,883 was the lowest of five entered, and the contract was awarded upon the recommendation of Public Works Director Louis Goss.

The contract calls for repair and re-enforcement of the creek banks between Oak and Chestnut Avenue.

A resolution of intention to vacate the public service easement along the former Colma Creek channel across the Macy property on El Camino Real was also adopted.

The council agreed to abandon the creek easement after the Macy company completed rerouting the creek through a new channel across the site.

Eight Members Of Family Hurt

Eight members of a Daly City household were injured Saturday night in an auto crash on Bayshore Freeway in Menlo Park.

One of the victims, Wendy Banglos, 14, remained in critical condition in Stanford University Hospital today. Highway patrolmen said she was thrown from the auto and pinned under the wreckage of the overturned vehicle. Other motorists lifted the car by hand to extricate her.

Officers said the crash occurred at the scene of a previous accident. When the van-type auto, driven by Mrs. Mary M. Banglos, 34, of 102 Iwo Jima Road, Daly City, came upon the congestion, she applied the brakes. A witness said the car somersaulted end-over-end into the center divider.

Men who had been assisting at the scene of the earlier accident ran over to help the injured and lift the auto off of the girl.

Taken to the hospital, in addition to Wendy, were her mother, sisters and brother, Norma, 9, Maureen, 8, Debbie, 6, and Lee, 4, and Jane, 15 and Cynthia Nuniz, 12, of the Daly City address.

2 Children Hurt in Auto Accidents

A four-year-old girl was injured Saturday when she darted from behind a parked car and was hit by a vehicle on Linden Avenue in San Bruno.

Julie M. Lindberg of 343 Guardo Avenue, Millbrae, was treated at Peninsula Hospital for laceration of the upper lip and abrasions of the forehead and left ribs, according to a San Bruno police spokesman.

She was not admitted.

Police said the driver of the car, Leonard J. Grigsby, 50 of 146 Los Olivos, Daly City, was northbound on Linden when the child suddenly appeared on the street, coming from behind a parked auto, about 104 feet south of Genevieve Avenue.

A seven-year-old bike rider, Nora J. Cockerton, of 28 Los Flores, South San Francisco, was hurt Sunday when she struck the fender of a car in San Bruno.

Police said Robert Carzona, 23, of 189 College Avenue, San Francisco, was southbound on Oakmont Drive, approaching Sherwood Drive.

Carzona stopped his car and the bike struck the left front fender of his auto police said.

Police said the girl was treated at Peninsula Hospital for abrasions of the left hip and right thigh, then released.

SSF Check Mystery Is Probed

Police in South San Francisco are involved in what might be the biggest check tracing case in history.

More than 24 hours after $2 million in checks was found in a green bag at an El Camino Real service station, officers still had no inkling of where the checks came from or how they found their way to South San Francisco.

Eugene Flambrini, an attendant at the White Front Service Station, 192 El Camino Real, spotted the huge bag of checks leaning against a gasoline pump when he reported to work at 7:45 a.m. Sunday.

Inside the bag, wrapped in cellophane, was approximately $2 million in checks, all of which were stamped or perforated, and therefore "non-negotiable," police said.

The checks were apparently en route from the San Francisco Crocker Citizens National Bank to the Federal Reserve Bank in Los Angeles, according to police.

Officers said no theft involving transit checks has been reported.

The checks are being held in a vault at the South San Francisco Police Station pending further investigation by police and bank officials.

P-TA Hosts Teachers At Luncheon

Teachers at Engvall Intermediate School were guests of the school's P-TA unit at a luncheon held recently.

Hospitality Chairman Mrs. Joseph Busch was in charge of the arrangements for the event. She was assisted by her co-chairman Mrs. John Watts and by Mrs. Barry Rosekind, Mrs. Delfino Clitino, Mrs. Richard Bosley, Mrs. William Burge, Mrs. Donald Benedetti, Mrs. Carl Muehlendorf, and Mrs. William Bailey.

In addition to the teachers, guests included a number from the San Bruno Park School District. Among those attending were: William Jennings, director of personnel; Edward J. Vallier, director of administration; Martin Tunick, curriculum consultant; Clem Kennedy, director of music; Eugene Dwyer, instrumental music teacher; Mrs. Evelyn Korf, school social worker; Mrs. Helen Norman and Mrs. Delia Dominguez, school nurses; and Jon Patterson, director, audio visual.

Teachers were introduced at the gathering by Engvall Principal Lloyd Garcia while members of the P-TA Engvall Executive Board were announced by President Mrs. Alfred L. Kennedy.

SSF Will Give Guitar Instruction

The South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department is offering basic beginning guitar instruction in folk and popular music for boys and girls and young adults 9 to 17 years old. The lessons will be on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 7:30 in Room 10 of Magnolia Recreation Center, Grand and Magnolia avenues, starting October 1.

There will be two guitar lessons each week for ten weeks, making a total of 20 hours of instruction. The fee for the series is $10 and 15 students are required to begin the class. Students must provide their own guitar, music stand, and are required to purchase a standard music book. Interested persons should pre-register before the first class at the Recreation and Park Department offices at Grand and Magnolia before October 1.

The series will be under the direction of Woody Wedlick who has taught guitar for 20 years, has degrees in music from Michigan State University, and Wayne State University. He has recorded and played with such artists as Dizzy Gillespie, Milk Jackson and Sonny Stitt.

Truck Runs Over Cyclist

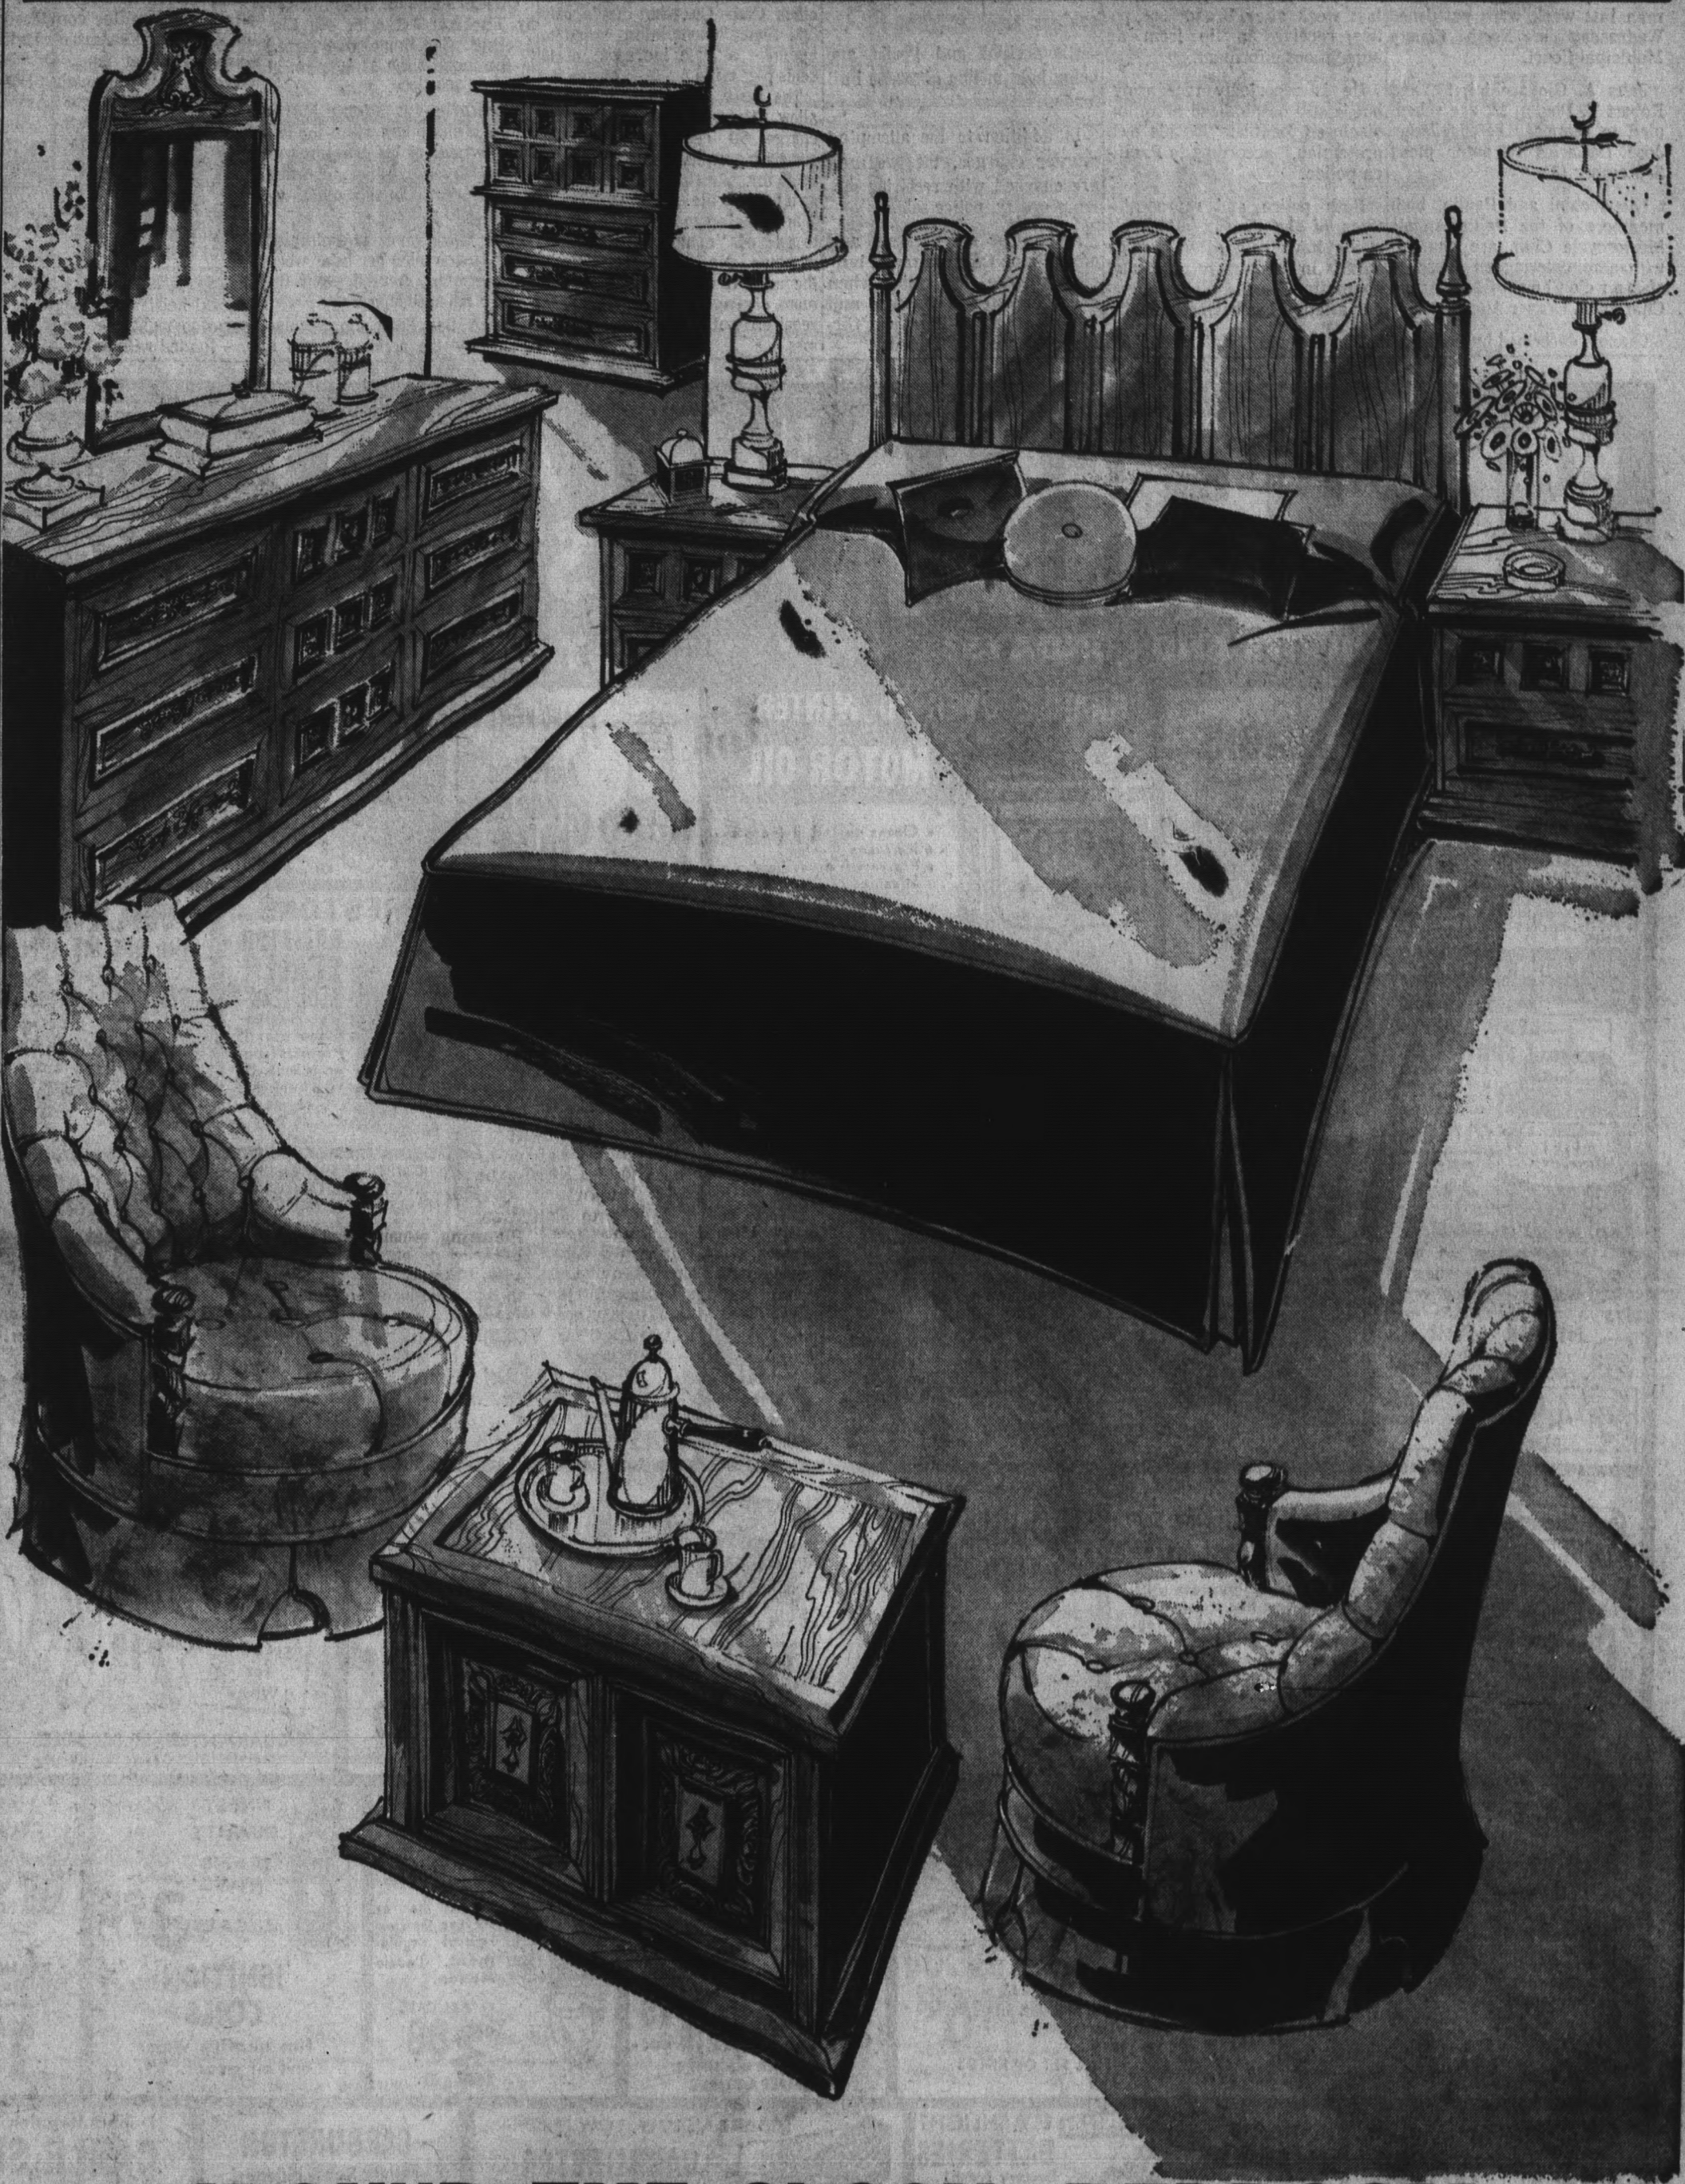

A South San Francisco child was seriously injured Saturday afternoon when a truck ran over a bicycle at the intersection of Baden Avenue and Eucalyptus Drive.

Police said Clyde Whetstone, 8, of 728 Second Lane, was injured at 2:45 p.m. when a truck driven by Frank E. Monnot, 373 Ponderosa Road, South San Francisco, struck his bicycle in the intersection.

Monnot was traveling south on Eucalyptus when the youth rode his bicycle into the path of the truck, police said.

The child is undergoing treatment at Kaiser Hospital for fractures of both legs and head injuries.

Bizarre Case Involves Two Hells Angels; Delay Pleas

Plea hearings for two Pacifica men charged with attempted murder in connection with the near fatal drugging of another man last week were postponed Wednesday in North County Municipal Court.

John A. Giovacchini, 29, and Robert T. Poulin, 22, are scheduled to reappear before Judge Jose Delario to enter pleas September 18.

Giovacchini and Poulin, both members of the Hell's Angels Motorcycle Club, are charged with administering an overdose of narcotics to 22-year-old Charles W. Craner August 31.

Craner, described by police as an "associate" of the two men, was found unconscious and near death in a Colma Cemetery last week after Broadmoor police received a tip from an anonymous informant.

He is reportedly recovering, but is still hospitalized at an undisclosed location "for his own protection," according to Pacifica police.

Both police and representatives of the district attorney's office have refused to divulge details in the bizarre case, and no motive for the alleged murder attempt has been revealed.

The delay in the plea hearings was granted in order to allow the two defendants time to acquire counsel, a spokesman for the district attorney's office said.

Giovacchini and Poulin are being held in lieu of $62,500 bail each.

In addition to the attempted murder charges, the two men are charged with receiving stolen property, police said.

A number of firearms and other items taken in recent burglaries were confiscated when police arrested Giovacchini and Poulin at their Parkview Circle residence last Thursday.

Taxi Fare Rates May Be Boosted

Pacifica councilmen have introduced an ordinance calling for an increase in taxi fare rates in the city.

Acting at the request of George McMahon, owner of Pacifica Cab Co., the city's only taxi firm, councilmen voted to approve a rate increase of 10 cents per mile.

The new ordinance will also allow the taxi operator to charge 60 cents for the first one-sixth mile, instead of 50 cents for the first one-fifth mile, as a basic rate.

In addition to increasing fares to a level "comparable to those in other North County cities," the new ordinance will impose more stringent regulations and requirements upon taxi operators.

S.S.F. Traffic Is Blocked

A tractor-trailer rig overturned on Shaw Road in South San Francisco Wednesday, and traffic was blocked more than three hours before the road was cleared, police reported.

Officers said the truck, driven by Thomas Weckerle, 400 Elm Avenue, San Bruno, overturned in the road about 12:30 p.m. in front of 300 Shaw.

Weckerle was attempting to make a sharp turn when the left rear wheel of his tractor was locked by the trailer, causing the entire rig to flip over, according to police.

The vehicle was traveling at eight to ten miles per hour when the accident occurred, and the driver escaped injury.

South San Francisco firemen stood by the accident while a

S.S.F. School Dispute Grows

South San Francisco planning commissioners last week appointed a five-member "ad hoc" committee to attempt a settlement of a dispute over the planned subdivision of a portion of the Foxridge School site.

Acting upon the recommendation of City Planner Daniel Pass, commissioners established a committee composed of South San Francisco Unified School District Supt. Dr. Paul Nielsen, Westborough Homeowners Improvement Association member Wesley Slade, Pass, and representatives from the city's recreation commission and planning commission.

The decision to form the new committee was reached after school district officials, rebuffed special hoist was brought to the scene to right the truck, which was loaded with paint.

by both the planning commission and council in their first attempt to subdivide the 8.4-acre parcel, filed a few tentative map last week.

A motion to again deny the subdivision application was defeated Tuesday by a 4-2 vote. A motion to continue the matter to a future meeting was also defeated.

Under the new proposal before the commission, school officials have indicated they intend to divide the parcel into 11 lots, with nine of the lots to be sold and two reserved for landscaping purposes.

Residents of the neighborhood voiced strong opposition when school officials first announced their intentions to subdivide the parcel for residential development several weeks ago.

The homeowners maintained the proposed development would represent a "detriment to the neighborhood," and would deprive residents of the use of the school property for recreational purposes.

School officials, meanwhile, have maintained they need the revenues which would result from sale of the land, and the subdivision has been planned "since the school itself was first proposed."

The committee formed Tuesday is scheduled to submit recommendations to the planning commission at the October 14 meeting.

MEETING SLATED

The Daily City Recreation Commission will meet today at 7:30 p.m. in the departmental conference room at 134 Hillsdale Boulevard, it was announced Friday.

IT'S GOOD! Captain Satellite (Bob March) hams it up with two young admirers Saturday at Westlake Shopping Center during The Annual Kids Day promotion. And by the looks of things, pretty Susie and Linda Doire of Daly City are enjoying the antics. During his three-hour personal appearance, the Captain greeted more than 5,00 youngsters to set an all-time kids' day attendance record at the center. (Post Photo)

Jeff High Adult Division Offering Special Courses

Adult vocational guidance courses will start on October 10, and will run for a three-week period, meeting on Tuesday and Thursday evenings of each week, at Westmoor High School in Daly City from 7 to 10 p.m.

The course is designed to help the individual in determining what kinds of jobs are best suited to him, and will seek the aptitudes and interests of men and formation call the Adult School office or attend the first session in Room B-37.

A personal interview with the Adult School counseling staff for each individual completing the course will be arranged.

Further information regarding the Vocational Guidance course or any other course listed in the Jefferson Union High School District, Adult Division brochure may be received by calling any one of the schools: Jefferson, Oceana, Terra Nova, or Westmoor after 6:30 p.m.

Adult Class In Freight

South San Francisco Adult School will offer an introductory course in freight traffic management and freight rates that meets each Monday from 7 to 9:45 p.m.

The course will cover California intrastate freight rates using California Minimum Rate Tariff No. 2, principles of freight traffic management using a textbook, study of motor and railroad freight classification rules and regulations using the two classifications applied with practical freight rate problems, and a general study of class and commodity freight tariffs emphasizing the major rules and regulations with freight rate problems applications.

Tuition fee plus purchase of textbook and a small tariff deposit is required. For further information call the Adult School office or attend the first session in Room B-37.

Registration is open to students in home gardening and landscaping now being offered by the Jefferson Union High School Adult Division.

Classes started the week of September 9, and will continue for 10 weeks at each school. Oceana on Tuesday, Westmoor on Thursday, hours from 7 to 10 p.m.

Students will find both classes practical and informal. Classes will deal with soils, lawns, useful plant materials and their care. Principles of landscaping, pruning, and spraying will be covered, followed by discussion of individual projects and problems. Slide lectures and a field trip to Strybing Arboretum will be part of the program. Interested adults are urged to enroll at either Oceana or Westmoor between the hours of 7 to 10 p.m.

The Adult Division also is offering a six-week course in convalescent nursing aide techniques.

The course will start on October 7, and will be held Monday and Wednesday evenings for the following six weeks for a total of twelve meetings. Classes will be held at Jefferson High School, 6996 Mission Street, between the hours of 7 and 10, Monday and Wednesday evenings.

The convalescent nursing aide course is designed to acquaint the student with the medical environment of hospitals as well as homes. It will cover a wide spectrum of practical working techniques, including such things as pulse readings, respiration, patient bathing, proper bedmaking, and use of related sick and hospital equipment.

This course will emphasize convalescent nursing aide techniques that can be applied on a vocational level, for those students wishing to enter the field of medicine, or for use in the home for those students who may have to provide care for members of the family.

Upon completion of this six weeks course — and it is necessary that the student attend all twelve sessions — a certificate of completion will be issued to each successful student. This certificate will assist a member of the class in securing a vocational position.

D.C. Savings Bonds Lauded

Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy of Daly City has been commended by Glen R. Johnson, National Director of the U.S. Savings Bonds Division, for his leadership and service to the Treasury's School Savings Program.

In a letter to the Postmaster, Johnson said, "We are — once again — counting on your leadership and co-operation for the successful operation of the School Savings Program in local communities. A large measure of the success of this program is due to the fine service you and your personnel provide."

Many Daly City schools offer school savings — part of the nationwide Savings Bonds Program. Savings Stamps in five denominations, from 10 cents to $5 are on sale at all times in the post office and on Stamp Day in schools. As pupils fill their albums—which are provided free — they exchange them for U.S. Savings Bonds at their bank.

Edward Morgan, superintendent of the Jefferson Union High School District, was named temporary chairman of the new County Human Relations Commission at the group's organizational meeting Thursday in Redwood City.

Morgan accepted nomination for the post, but emphasized that he would "under no circumstances" serve as permanent chairman of the 15-member commission, created when the Human Resources Commission was split into the Economic Opportunity Council and the Human Relations Commission.

It was indicated that one of the first jobs of the new commission may be the investigation of the Ravenswood High School situation in East Palo Alto.

Noting that a "very serious" human relations problem has arisen in East Palo Alto in the past few days, Deputy District Attorney Howard Gawthrop, legal advisor to the commission, stated that "perhaps you should organize rapidly and act."

"I'm not saying it is appropriate to investigate the Ravenswood problem," Gawthrop said. "But I'm not saying it would be inappropriate."

The council took no action

FIRST

William Kemmler, the first man to be executed by electrocution, died Aug. 6, 1893, at Auburn Prison, Auburn, N.Y.

concerning the matter, but scheduled its second meeting for September 26 at 4 p.m.

One of the first tasks facing the commission is the hiring of an executive director to handle the administrative duties. Richard W. Mabey, assistant personnel director for the County Civil Service Commission, reported that the commission accepted a total of 22 applications, with 10 of the applicants passing the written examination. The commission staff is presently in the process of establishing oral examinations for the $1013-$1267 a month job, Mabey said.

Commission member Harry Bremont urged that the commission have control of who serves on its oral interview committee.

Maybe informed the commission that he felt the civil service commission had reached people who are well-qualified applicants for the executive post.

A 'Waste of Time'

JUST SAW A film about the workings of County Government starring all the top workers in our county government. It showed how hard Our Top Workers work and how their lives are not really their own since assuming this tremendous responsibility of caring for Us and looking after Our problems large and small. It was a wonderful film — it should be — it cost about $1,000 a minute to make, and aside from the excellent editing, was a waste of time.

REMEMBER THAT BROWN BAG DAY? You coulda counted the "Baggers" entering San Francisco from the south on one hand last Friday. That's loyalty fer ya!

THAT STORY ON Billy Swartfager, appearing in today's Post and last week's SM Times has started an avalanche of warm greetings from folks hereabouts. Most people say there just aren't enough "Billys" around anymore. We agree. Billy is the young 14 year old (turned 15 yesterday) who donated his German Shepherd dog to the Air Force for duty in Vietnam, because it might save someone's life. His older brother Tom is a sergeant en route to that war-torn nation. Like we said before: We need more Billys.

AT LEAST ONE CITY PLANNER is going to start a "get tough" program on signs in his city. But the project won't get off the ground until the planner (who is plotting his strategy in secret until he can unleash his forces) gets some help. There seems to be an imbalance in this field. Some City Planning Departments have a dozen experts puzzling around while others are hurting, help-wise. But they all have one thing in common (here in the North County): Few councilmen will give them the full speed ahead signal on any "cleanup" campaign. If you doubt this, ask your nearest City Planner (in confidence, of course.)

AND WHILE WE'RE ON THE SUBJECT, it would seem that something could be done to pressure certain real estate people into either sprucing up their signs or tearing them down. Signs are a reflection on the product being marketed, we've always been led to believe.

SETTING THE (D.C.) RECORD STRAIGHT — The recent Daly City resolution concerning retirement age of city employees HAS NOT been amended to shelve the mandatory retirement age of personnel to 65. Rather, it puts off the forced retirement for six months — from the previous effective date of 1 July 1969 to 1 January 1970. Do you care? We thought not!

SETTING THE POST STRAIGHT — This column recently stated Good Old Westmoor High sprinkled $14,000 in water of their lawns last year (which may soon be in Broadmoor if Eastmoor Avenue slips anymore). A phone call noted that we were over our head on the figure and should go jump in a lake. The cost of watering Westmoor was ONLY $5,000. That's still soaking 'em, I say!

NEWS OF THE OUTSIDE WORLD — These people up at Lake Tahoe are thinking up new ways to Keep Nevada Green (with California money). Some casinos now use a four deck system on the "21" tables to offset those mathematical systems. No, we didn't know they'd been doing it right along.

PIZZA KING AND AMATEUR GOLFER Frank (toto) Spadarella just wrapped his annual "Toto Open" up at Incline where startled localities saw Daly City councilman and former local businessman Micheal DeBernardi card an 83 gross.

More than 75 local duffers (and a handful of golfers) braved the heady mountain air, the gaming rooms of John Ascuaga's Nugget and the championship course at Incline during the two-day meet. Our Source tells us that Ascuaga went around the course with Judge Frank Blum, DeBernardi and Spadarella — "and his score left something to be desired (Doesn't everyone's?)"

The Supermarket Story

THE GRAND OPENING of Serramonte shopping center recalls a statement from a book by Dr. Edward A. Brand of Michigan State College.

"The story of the supermarket is the story of America," he writes. "... It is great because of the pioneering spirit and the leadership of the owners and operators and because it answers a need."

Surely the shopping centers in Daly City attest to Dr. Brand's statement. For example the QFI market in Serramonte. To solve problems that give nightmares to supermarket managers and the screaming meemies to housewives, the QFI people — full of pioneer spirit — scouted the nation to find designers who could create new kinds of racks and displays.

There is a case that keeps fresh flowers from wilting without freezing them or drenching them in water. There are ice cream racks that are packed in the plant, delivered to the store and snapped into the case without leaving refrigeration long enough to melt and without being touched by a human hand.

The ice cream section is a work of art. The cases stand upright so no customer has to stoop to pick up her selection. The doors are glass but framed in gold to make a picture of the contents. The entire section has a candy stripe front to give the appearance of an ice cream parlor.

THERE IS A CASE that keeps tropical fruit as fresh as that eaten in the South Seas. The frozen pastry cases sit behind a wooden frame to carry out the picture motif. But behind that frame are pipes and wires that keep each package at the very temperature that it requires.

Even the lowly 35c per bag potatoes are in a special case that preserves them and fairly delivers them to the shoppers basket.

Such markets, Dr. Brand writes, "represent the last word in modernization of the nation's largest industry." He points out that in 1965 — three years ago — the typical supermarket cost in excess of $250,000 to build and required an over-all investment of approximately $500,00.

Rising prices and more pioneer spirit have combined to make the costs of several markets in Northern San Mateo County exceed the Doctor's figures.

Other figures quoted in Dr. Brand's book "Modern Supermarket Operation" show that some stores maintain an inventory that averages two or three times the weekly sales.

In most shopping center stores such things as check stands, signs, electrical equipment, display racks and office equipment cost more than some of the largest pre-shopping center markets.

TO SHOW that the public appreciates all that the markets offer, Dr. Brand cites figures that show that in four years the annual volume of sales for a store that meets the minimum standards for supermarkets rose from $250,000 in 1951 to $1,000,000 in 1955. In twenty five years some shopping center stores saw their average sales increase over three hundred per cent.

"The future will bring more advances and innovations, but these will be based on the knowledge and understanding of the present 'state-of-the-art' in retailing."

EMPTY LEASH — Billy Swartfager shows his mother an empty leash in the rear yard of the family home on "B" Street, Colma. Billy donated his German Shepherd dog, Star, to the military for scout duty in Vietnam. The youth has been blind since birth.

Blind Boy Gives Dog to Viet Duty

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Billy Swartfager is considered by all who know him to be a rather unusual 14-year-old.

He maintains a "B" average at Jefferson High School; talks almost endlessly about his big brother, Tom, who is a sergeant in the Army, and likes to learn new languages.

Billy also likes to talk about his good friend, Star, a two-year-old German shepherd.

What makes Billy "unusual" is the fact that he has been blind since birth. And while he has depended on others, to a large extent, to get him from one place to another, once there he shoulders his own burdens.

Although Billy didn't use Star for "getting around town," the two spent a lot of time together. Instead, Billy learned how to use a white cane "because someone told me a blind person had to be 18 years old before they could go out alone with a guide dog."

When Billy's brother went into the Army almost a year ago, the youth turned much of his attention to Star, his full-of-life canine friend, and the two exchanged daily affections for one another.

Mr. and Mrs. William Swartfager, 469 B Street, Colma, their two daughters and Billy, were in the living room the other night when a "public service" commercial appeared on television pleading for dogs to be used in Vietnam as scouts for the military.

"I thought right then... If my dog could really save someone's life, like the fellow on TV said, maybe it might save my brother, Tom," Billy explained.

He knew his brother had orders for Vietnam duty and must report there in early November.

The officers at the Presidio where Billy and his father took Star (his real name is Star of Colma), accepted the dog with thanks and offered to pay Billy for him.

(The USAF pays up to $150 per dog.)

"I didn't want money for Star. Sure, I could have used the money, but I just wanted my dog to help in whatever way he could," Billy said.

"I thought he might use the money to buy a typewriter. He's always wanted a nice typewriter," Billy's mother interjected, "but he wouldn't have it that way. We're very proud of our son."

The Air Force didn't waste any time in "shipping him out" and Star of Colma was sworn in and escorted aboard a jet plane bound for Lackland Air Force Base (Texas) the next day, en route to scout training at Fort Benning, Georgia.

"They told me that the airman assigned to handle Star will write and let us know what's going on. I sure hope so... I really miss him," Billy confided.

He has another dog, a black and white spotted breed that "tries to take Star's place."

"You know when I really miss him?" Billy asks, and goes on to answer his own question. "When I go down the back stairs to the yard. He would run up to me and I'd pet him... he sure liked that."

Hollywood-North

One film company no sooner packs up its klieg and crew, than another moves in. San Francisco hasn't been without one for less than a week since the first of the year.

Two Hollywood directors drew attention on Nob Hill Friday where Mark Robson ("Daddy's Gone A-Hunting") was shooting on the steps of Grace Cathedral and Otto Preminger ("Skidoo") was hosting the critics to lunch in his tower suite at the Fairmont.

The former will be here through September 27, shooting such backgrounds as the San Carlos train depot, the airport, the Manx Hotel on Powell Street, the roof of the Mark Hopkins hotel, and the Alcoa Building. The latter was in town for the day with studio executives to sneak preview his movie last night at the New Alhambra Theatre.

ROBSON IS A VETERAN OF SUCH AUDIENCE-APPEAL PICTURES as "The Prize," "Von Ryan's Express," "Peyton Place" and "Valley of the Dolls." His new venture is budgeted at three million dollars from an original screenplay by Larry Cohen and Lorenzo Semple. It stars Carol White of "Poor Cow" making her U.S. film debut and Scott Hylands of A.C.T. with costar Paul Burke of "Valley of the Dolls."

Described as an "out-and-out thriller," it concerns Hylands as an unsuccessful photographer having a love affair with an English girl, Miss White, who lives in San Francisco and works for J. Walter Thompson Advertising Agency. She becomes pregnant, has an abortion, remarries and gets involved in intrigue with her first lover. The director won't go into detail over the plot because it would kill the suspense factor.

"The script was written for the East Coast but will adapt just as easily to the Bay Area with its commuters and suburban life," the soft-spoken, gentle man explained over cocktails Thursday night. He departed to see the first day's rushes of what he calls "a contemporary film." Hylands describes his character as "a loser, a psychopathic photographer who lives in a world of illusion, a man destroyed by his total inability to face reality and himself."

The local actor is 25 and has been appearing with ACT for three years, both as actor and director. He won the role from an audition originally done for Michelangelo Antonioni who was considering Hylands for a screen debut during the summer. The contract includes an option for other movies over a six-year period.

PREMINGER, WHEN ASKED IF HE'D EVER MADE ABAD MOVIE, replied, "They get better with age. Like wine."

Next on the agenda for the veteran moviemaker is "Too Far To Walk," the John Hersey novel being scripted by Bill Goodheart who wrote "Generation." After that comes "Tell Me That You Love Me, Junie Moon," from the first novel by Marjorie Kellogg. It concerns three very sick people who are hospitalized together and decide to live together when they're released. They suffer various afflictions, all physical, not mental.

"Skidoo," which was filmed on the Peninsula and in San Francisco, won't be seen here until December. It opens in Miami Beach as a benefit for Jackie Gleason's pet charity, the Miami Beach Performing Arts Center.

Queried as to whether he was pleased with the results of his comedy film, the heavily accented director retorted, "Why not? Do you begrudge me the short time between now and when I must read your review?"

Not one to pull any verbal punches, Preminger, when asked what he thought of Jack Valenti, President of AMPPI, replied, "He's a wonderful man. I decided that when he stated that he'd never seen a bad picture. He should be made critic of the New York Times."

ON THE SUBJECT OF CRITICS, he stated the opinion that "critics are important only to little American films or art films." He remembered how hurt he was to receive a bad review from an important critic for "aura" only to have that same journalist, upon retiring as a columnist, admit to Preminger that he had been wrong about the film.

As for those seemingly minor scenes that set the censors to labeling films objectionable, Preminger reminded us that "no one ever got rich off stag films or dirty postcards and censors always go too far in judging what they term sensational."

Constitution's Birthday

Today is the 181st anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States — the most perfect document yet written by men for the government of men.

The Constitution is a living document. It has been the protection and the guiding light of free men ever since its adoption that September, 1787.

There is no governmental charter in the world which comes as close as the U.S. Constitution to true justice. Autocracy or oligarchy can come in the United States only when free men surrender the rights given to them in that document.

If the United States has not achieved the full promise that it holds, it is not the fault of the Constitution — rather it is that the Constitution has not been followed in its true spirit.

It is not essential that Americans give reverence to the Constitution. It is essential that they recognize it as their own individual charter of freedom, to protect it and defend it, for their own sake and their children's.

Pacifica Cleans Up Its Beaches

They came in droves over the sand dunes to do their part: Adults, kids clean up beaches.

EVEN beat-up, rusty shopping carts were buried (above) in the sand, requiring workers to keep tin cans handy for digging. Over a dozen carts, such as the one being unearthed by this trio of workers, were trucked away. Tin cans, by the way, were not hard to come by, as the photo at left shows. (Frankhouse Photos.)

AFTER the cleanup project, workers received luncheon of hotdogs and soft drinks. Pacifica's Jaycees promoted activity. (Frankhouse Photo.)

Fill 'Er Up— Pockets, That Is

An armed robber drove into Ed Heuth's Union Station in San Bruno last Tuesday and ordered money, instead of gasoline.

"This is a stickup," the husky robber told attendant Carl E. Smith, 18, as he simulated a weapon in his right-hand coat pocket.

San Bruno police said the hold-up was at Heuth's station at 171 West San Bruno Avenue shortly after 11:20 p.m., as Smith was preparing to close for the day.

The robber never got out of his car, described by the attendant as a green 1954 two-door Chevrolet, possibly with out-of-state license plates, police said.

As soon as he had received about $70 from the attendant, the man drove off, heading west on San Bruno Avenue.

The suspect was described as between 30 and 35 years of age, of husky build, with short hair, weighing between 180 and 200 pounds. He wore a three-quarter length sports coat.

Winton Act Clash

Get a Lawyer, Jeff Is Advised

The Jefferson High School District Teachers Association, unhappy over last May's action allowing individual employee organizations to deal directly with the board, was told by trustee Ray Milton last week that it should "get an attorney" if it doubts the legality of the board move.

Milton's suggestion was directed at JUHSDTA through president Alex Fraser. Fraser informed the board of last week's directive by the teachers group that the board should be urged to comply with the legal wording of the Winton Act, which established and governs the Negotiating Council.

Fraser termed the board action unlawful, under the wording of the Winton Act. The board previous to May used the rule mandating all organizations to deal first with the Negotiating Council.

Another Jefferson teachers' unit, the American Federation of Teachers, had refused to participate under that rule, and never took its seat on the Negotiating Council.

The May rule change allowed the AFT, and others, to skirt the Negotiating Council.

Fraser also told trustees that he had submitted his resignation, as promised in May, but that the 300-member teacher organization refused to accept it last week.

Fraser explained that one of the reasons he cited in his letter of resignation was that he did not want to become involved in what he called an illegal act.

Fraser also pointed out that three members of the Negotiating Council had quit already and he had heard rumors of a fourth resignation.

Milton's remarks came when Fraser queried the board as to how JUHSDTA should proceed in view of the group's attitude that the May ruling was not lawful.

In addition to "get an attorney," it was suggested that such an attorney could meet with the district attorney to discuss the matter.

Retroactive Pay Snafu on Coast

Pacifica city employees will receive payment of a "retroactive pay increase" this year, but it will have to go by another name.

Councilmen instructed City Manager C. W. Masonheimer to work out a pay schedule over the remainder of the current fiscal year which will "absorb" the salary increase employees would have received during July if the city budget had been completed on time.

It will be necessary to distribute the additional pay in this manner because of a state law prohibiting the payment of retroactive salaries to city employees, City Attorney John Sherman said.

"The law specifically prohibits the payment of money for services already rendered," Sherman said.

Councilmen approved salary increases of five per cent and some "adjustments" in excess of five per cent when the budget was finally approved last month.

However, the month of July had already elapsed when the pay raises went into effect.

"Since it was the council's intent that the pay raises be in effect for an entire year, it is simply a matter of working out a method of distributing the additional money," Sherman said.

Employees could receive the pay in the form of a bonus during the month of December, or it could be distributed over a period of several months, approximately $7,000 is involved.

Five Injured In South SF Car Accident

Five persons were injured in a three-car collision at the intersection of Grand Avenue and Linden Avenue in South San Francisco Saturday, police reported.

Injured in the 2:30 a.m. crash were two of the drivers involved, Thomas H. Finney, 24, of San Mateo, and Raymond Medrano Jr., 33, of San Bruno.

Finney was taken to Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco, and Medrano was admitted to Peninsula Hospital.

Two passengers in Finney's vehicle, Timothy Cole, 24, of Belmont, and James Tung, San Mateo, were also admitted to Kaiser Hospital for treatment of injuries sustained in the wreck.

Eloise Morales, 24, of South San Francisco, a passenger in a third vehicle involved, was also injured. She was admitted to Peninsula Hospital.

None of the drivers was cited.

C of C Chief May Resign

Pacifica Chamber of Commerce President Mike Wyman Thursday announced his intention to resign from the Chamber of Commerce post at the end of this month.

Wyman, a First National Bank executive, is being transferred to his firm's new branch office in South San Francisco.

Chamber directors are expected to name a successor to the outgoing president within a few weeks, according to manager Dan Johns.

Businessman Bill Hammer presently serves as vice president of the organization.

THIS IS WHAT MIGHT be considered a "before" photo of the stretch of Terra Nova Boulevard soon to be under construction. Coast Road Contract Let

A contract for improvements of a 1,200-foot section of Terra Nova Boulevard in Pacifica was awarded to the Challenge Contracting Co. of Redwood City at last week's meeting of the city council.

The Challenge firm's bid of $49,732 was the lowest of four entered on the project, according to City Manager C. W. Masonheimer.

Work on the project, which will include paving, curbs and gutters, will begin within 15 days, and is scheduled for completion within two months.

The stretch of road to be approved is north of Terra Nova High School, and is the last unimproved section of the street, city officials said.

Pacifica To Seek Funds For Maps

Pacifica councilmen Tuesday approved an amendment to the city's 701 Application requesting federal funds for the preparation of "systematic and uniform maps" of the city.

Acting upon the recommendation of Community Development Director Robert Keys the council requested a $16,760 grant for the purpose of developing a basic map system in connection with the general plan study.

"Pacifica is one of the few cities in California without a basic map system," Keys said. "Such a system is necessary for orderly development of the city."

He said the existing "100 scale" maps of the city are "inadequate for most purposes."

Councilmen approved another request for federal funds to partially finance the purchase of a mobile crime laboratory and holding cell for the city's police department Tuesday.

Acting upon the recommendation of Police Chief Neil Tremaine, the city applied for approximately $15,000 in federal funds for a mobile unit equipped with tape recorders, movie cameras, and other devices to aid in riot control and investigation.

The city will be required to contribute an additional $5,000 toward purchase of the new equipment if the application is approved.

Open House At City Hall

Councilman Maurice Hamilton is heading a committee finalizing plans for an open house at the San Bruno City Hall September 28, accentuating completion of a $440,000 municipal building expansion program.

City Clerk Karl Hultberg said the special open house would be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., both at city hall and the city's new corporation yard facilities.

Suit to Clarify Law is Advised

In what might have been a move unprecedented in the annals of city government, Pacifica City attorney John Sherman has advised City Manager C. W. Masonheimer to file a lawsuit against the city's director of finance, John Grindrod.

Sherman told Mayor Nick Gust and council members he has been contemplating such an action as a means of clarifying state law on the question of awarding salary increases for councilmen during their terms of office.

State law specifies that elected officials cannot grant themselves a pay raise during the course of an office term "except in a time of war."

California legislators voted themselves an immediate pay increase last year on grounds the nation's involvement in Vietnam constitutes a "state of war." However, Sherman said the law in this area is "still very confused," and "needs to be clarified in court."

Pacifica councilmen voted themselves a salary increase of $50 per month last April. The pay raise was not certified until after the new terms of office began, and there is still some question as to whether or not it should be implemented immediately, according to the attorney.

By having the manager enter the suit against the director of finance, the city can receive a court decision in the matter, Sherman said.

"A supreme court determination in this matter would clarify the situation for Pacifica and all other general law cities in California," according to the attorney.

Councilmen took no action on Sherman's suggestion Tuesday, but took the proposal "under advisement."

FT. BENNING, Ga. — Douglas H. Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Becker, 5 Fieldcrest Drive, Daly City, a student at the University of San Francisco, has completed the nation's only basic Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp at Ft. Benning, Ga., July 19.

The basic summer camp provides active-duty training in lieu of two years on-campus study, allowing him to enter the advanced ROTC program at the university.

During the six-week encampment, he received intensive training in leadership, rifle marksmanship, physical conditioning and other military subjects.

Upon completion of the advanced ROTC program and graduation from college, he is eligible to be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army.

Cadet Becker is a 1966 graduate of Westmoor High School.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

Brush After Meals

Brushing after meals not only helps to remove food particles from which decay acids are formed, but also helps to remove the bacteria that are responsible for producing the acid. So get in the habit of brushing after every meal.

Brush Thoroughly

Even if you brush after every meal, success in preventing decay won't be achieved unless you brush thoroughly. Use a good toothbrush that is in good condition.

Please ask your dentist about proper brushing of teeth.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth, as dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Deficient Defense:

Freitas-Styled Football Angers Pete

By JOHN HORGAN

Post Sports Writer

Even in victory there is apparently little solace for the footballing Freitas family and the Serra High School Padres.

During much of the 1967 season, Coach Jesse Freitas Sr. and his quarterback son, Jesse Jr., were the object of heated discussion and emotional controversy.

And the whole question of that father-son relationship in regards to Serra football has been resurrected this year in the wake of Saturday's 47-20 non-league victory over Westmoor in the '68 opener for both schools.

Pete Matisi, head coach of the North Peninsula League entry, charged after the contest that he would never play a Freitas-coached team again after Freitas Sr. allowed his son to play the entire ballgame and to go for another touchdown late in the game.

Matisi, whose Rams trailed 40-20 at the time, said it was a simple case of trying to pour it on an obviously beaten club. Young Jesse, who had already tossed three scoring arials during the wild and poorly-played offensive affair, did indeed lob another scoring bomb to tight end Tom Caselli with about three minutes left.

Matisi, a former Serra head coach, added that Freitas Sr. and his son, the young man who led all of Northern California's quarterbacks in passing statistics in 1967, were "hungry" and he implied that the two are using the Padre football team as a vehicle with which to spring Jesse Jr. into the gridiron limelight.

Coach Freitas, contacted at his home Sunday, countered Matisi's charges by stating that, "If Matisi doesn't want to play us, that's his business. I think they want an excuse to get out of playing us again."

(Serra has beaten the Rams by a combined score of 81-27 with Freitas tossing seven TD's over the past two seasons).

Freitas noted that his son threw only 24 passes against Westmoor and only 12 were complete. He explained that the real turning point in the game occurred in the middle of the final period, when, with Serra leading, 33-20, and with Westmoor threatening again defensive halfback Lou Lovisco intercepted a pass and returned it 46 yards for the clinching tally.

Matisi and his staff said they felt Freitas Sr. should have played a reserve quarterback during the last three-minute sequence. Freitas replied Sunday that his other signal-caller, Mickey McKeon, had played defense all afternoon and has little experience at the position.

He added that, "The last thing I wanted to see happen was to have an injury on some last running play into the line. Besides, what does he (Matisi) want us to do? Just run out the clock? His defensive team wasn't playing it like that."

Freitas, mulling over Westmoor scores of past NPL games, noted that Matisi has run up massive totals, into the 50's and 60's against the likes of Half Moon Bay and Terra Nova by using superior personnel late in the games.

Freitas summed up the controversy by stating that, "I'm sure if Jess wasn't my son all of this wouldn't be said. And, it would be different too if he were throwing the ball 25 times a game and completing only eight with four interceptions. Then there would be room for criticism."

Meanwhile there was a football game played too, albeit a somewhat avant garde and unorthodox one.

Offense was the order of day at the San Mateo High School field where this Saturday Vallejo comes to town to duel the Serrans.

Combined, the two clubs tallied up a whopping 644 yards between them.

Serra stretched out to a comfortable 27-7 lead midway in the third period, held on as Westmoor, tiring badly in the afternoon heat, made a valiant rush, and swept aside the Rams in the final quarter after Lovisco's well-timed theft of a Joe Carrara pass.

Key offensive performers for Serra were flanker Tom Scott who scored three times, and Lynn Swann who caught six (Continued on Page 27)

Terra Nova Grid Team Loses First

There were some surprises in prep football's opening day and evening Friday.

In the only game involving a San Mateo County team, Sunset of Hayward routed Terra Nova of Pacifica, 42-20, in a non-league test in the East Bay.

But it was in the powerful West Catholic Athletic League's practice games where the action was furious.

In San Francisco on Friday, Riordan's potent ground attack erupted for 38 points in the first half and went on to crush allegedly tough Palo Alto of the South Peninsula Athletic League, 56-13, at Kezar Stadium.

The Crusaders got two scores apiece from Ralph LaMar, Bob Barbero and Russ Hampton.

Halfback Carl Braby carried by surprise and managed to tie, four times for 102 yards to lead the Riordan rushers.

A major early season upset occurred in Stockton where Stagg nipped St. Ignatius of San Francisco, 19-14, at the University of Pacific's Memorial Stadium before over 7,000 persons.

Mike Mitchell scored both of St. Ignatius' TD's on passes from quarterback Dan Fouts. Stagg won the game on a seven-yard run by Dick Kamabashi, with 1:19 left.

Bellarmine of San Jose, taking advantage of a crippled Pittsburg team, routed the East Bay club, 26-8, at Santa Clara's Buck Shaw Stadium. The Bells had a 20-2 lead at the half.

St. Mary's of Berkeley, thought to be in another "down" season, caught Pacific

The fastest upland game bird is also the largest—the wild turkey.

LOST OF ACTION—Daly City's Pop Warner football team put up a gallant struggle against their Pacifica counterparts last Sunday, but were edged out when the final score was tallied. The fledgling league is attracting larger crowds than had at first been anticipated. Most are proud (and loud) parents of the players.

NOW LISTEN SON—Coach Jim Bird seems to be telling this young player what strategy to use during the next play. But for all the expert advice, Pacifica bested Daly City at last Sunday's meet in Daly City. (Post Photos)

The rodeo will be held October 20, beginning at 11 a.m., at the Coastside Corral. Proceeds will go to various youth activities in the city, according to rodeo chairman Walter Egli. The corral facilities are being donated by Don Walker, owner of Coastside Corral, and Pacifica merchants are providing prizes for the event. (Post Photo.)

Intrusion Of Football Into Baseball Season Creates Resentment

RELUCTANTLY, WE admit football season is here again, bringing with it the same old problems of trying to do justice to its overlap with baseball. As most readers know, we are rabid followers of football—when it's in its proper season, but detest it when it intrudes on baseball, not only because baseball is our favorite sport, but also because whichever of the two sports we write about, a fan of the other sport is sure to complain that we're ignoring his love.

But we resent football's intrusion a little more this season because baseball, this past year, seems to have ingested one of football's more suspect mores—patting one's teammate on the rump before the very eyes of millions (when televised), including impressionable youngsters.

Rump, incidentally—for the benefit of impressionable youngsters who might be reading this column—will herein be referred to as "Po-Po", after that hit song of a decade or more ago about a baby's birth, entitled, "Feet Up, Pat 'em on the Po-Po." That is as innocent and delicate a term for that part of the anatomy as we can conjure at the moment.

ANYWAY, WE CAN'T remember when we've seen more Po-Po patting in baseball than we've seen this year. An early season edition of the Sporting News was a portent of things to come. It published a picture of Tim McCarver, the Cardinal's rugged backstop, joyously hugging left-handed pitcher Steve Carlton. That would have been understandable if Carlton had just pitched, say, a perfect game, or won the seventh game of the World Series. But this was spring training! We're sure there was a reasonable explanation for it, because McCarver and Carlton passed their clubhouse tests years ago, but what disturbed us about the picture is that the caption read, simply, "Jim McCarver and Steve Carlton!"

The fact that there was no explanation wasn't as bad as the fact that the Sporting News apparently felt there was no need for one!

Well, anyway, we just hope that Po-Po patting doesn't run so rampant this football season that little kids begin thinking it's an integral part of sports life, because it could cause a lot of trouble in the mixed kick-ball games in our elementary schools.

We can just hear the "analysts" this fall... "Is there anything you want to tell the Pop Warner kids watching today, Gordy, about that last play?"

"As a matter of fact, yes, Bob. Kids, did you notice after the completion of that last pass how John Brodie patted Sonny Randle on the..."

INSIDE SPORTS: Reliable sources tell us that: Dick Dietz, he of the proclivity for passed balls, will never make it as a catcher. In the minors he was always behind Randy Hundley and played more outfield than he caught. Not only hasn't he the experience, he hasn't the tools. The pitchers have lost confidence in him. If he really is to make it big, it must be as an outfielder (which is what we said a month ago).

Juan Marichal has a real, not imagined, respiratory problem... Don Drysdale is definitely finished for the year... Gaylord Perry does NOT throw a spitter... Franklin Mieli is still so determined to get back Rick Barry and/or just compensation, that, if his money holds out, he'll go to the Supreme Court... Jeff Carter (Giants public address man) receives $100 per game... the Giants' organization feels that Bobby Bonds can't miss...

The Giants will not put Jesus Alou up for expansion drafting because Houston is hot after him in trade, their thinking being he'll get bushels of hits on the hard Astro turf, the way he chops down on the ball. Problem is, they have nothing to offer in return, except young pitchers, which they won't give up. Rusty Staub, whom they won't give up, or Jimmy Wynn (whom they may give up, if he doesn't start thinking they way)...

JIMMY HART, who has become a defensive hitter, is hurting, somewhere, somehow, but he won't complain about it. He's an old Oriole... Jimmy Davenport may be through. That bad knee has helped make him an old 35. Even if the Giants do put him up for the draft, he may not be taken. And if he is, he'll probably retire. (If you see any more games this year, notice how Davenport now moves. He doesn't, in fact, move unless he absolutely has to. Not even go after a ball a foot foul of third base.)

And a little "inside" info of our own. Willie McCovey is a vastly underrated defensive first baseman. Just his size is an asset. It provides a big target, which is a psychological comfort to infielders. His reach has saved many an errant toss this season.

BASEBALL PLAYERS, if you didn't already know it, are a fickle lot. When Hank Bauer won the pennant with the Orioles in '66, the players said one of the great things about him was that he picked the best nine men and stuck with them. Now that he's gone the same players are winning with a new manager, their big criticism of Bauer is that he didn't use the whole team. In other words, when you win, you're a genius, etc.

Marty Coil, the ex-Terra Novan who was always unofficially one of the most popular kids in school, is now officially THE most popular player of the Fresno Giants as voted by the fans. At Terra Nova, popularity never got him a thing except smiles. At Fresno it got him a wardrobe. And that's why boy baseball players turn pro.

AND SOME STATISTICS: With all of the publicity about this year's low and possibly record breaking ERA's, the record for the lowest earned run average ever recorded by an AL left-hander has been overlooked. It's 1.75, and the record holder is that most amazing of all homers hitters... Babe Ruth.

Speaking of Ruth, what made many experts believe that his homerun record would never be broken was not so much the season's total as his September total, which was 17. In other words, he was at his strongest a time of the season when most players are fading.

Little has been made of it, but that's also what has made Dizzy Dean's 30 wins such an elusive total. Dean won seven games in September. Donny McLain has had a strong September, so he'll make it. Juan Marichal has had a relatively bad month, so he may not. If he doesn't, we hope he doesn't win 29. Then people will begin remembering that pop fly Davenport dropped...

If the Giants were in the AL, they'd be leading the league in hitting, instead of being sixth, but only tied for fifth in homers, instead of being a close second...

MISCELLANY: Reader Ed Cavagnaro writes that he was a spectator at Coffroth's Arena the day in 1912 when Willie Ritchie took the lightweight title from Ad Wolgast. Ed recalls that the famed arena was at Acton and Brunswick Streets...

If you're looking for an explanation as to why there are so few "old Orioles" in baseball today, it seems to us that the answer is simple. Players for the most part, nowadays, don't truly love the game. How many have you recently seen quoted in print that they wouldn't watch a baseball game if they weren't playing in it?

And finally, if you're a young player and think making the majors—even with expansion—is easy, digest this. The old San Francisco Seals for years held tryout camps for amateur players. The Seals looked at literally thousands of players. They signed only one. His name was Dominic DiMaggio.

If you predict the game will end in a tie, place an "X" only in the column headed "Tie" between the two teams. If the game ends in a tie, credit will only be given to contestants who predict the tie.
2. Write the total net yards (rushing and passing) that you think the S.F. 49ers will make in Sunday's game in the box provided. (This estimate will only be used in case of ties between two contestants.)

5. To receive the cash prize the winner must pick all 15 games correctly. If the entry does not pick all games right, then the winner will receive 2 tickets to the Big Game, California vs. Stanford on November 16. The previous week's contest cash prize will be added to the next week's contest if it has not been distributed before. The final week's winner will not have to guess all 15 games to win the cash prize. In case ties cannot be broken between contestants by means of the tie-breaker the prize will be divided equally. (This includes ties between contestants who pick 15 winners.)
6. A bonus of $50 will be given to each cash prize winner (not big game ticket winners) who is a home-delivered subscriber to The San Mateo Times or indicates immediate delivery of The Times is wanted. NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

Good morning, good cooks.
When I returned from my vacation I gathered up my mail, magazines, and the back copies of The Post and settled down to enjoy them. The following letter was the first one I opened.

Dear Nell Norton,

I sent this recipe to all my relatives. They don't care much for mushrooms but they are WILD about blue cheese!

Mildred Carrothers
250 South Drive
South San Francisco

Attached to the letter was the Blue Cheese Mushrooms recipe which began with this astounding quantity: "14 cups crumbled Blue Cheese."

Need I tell you that I checked the last four week's columns to see what other disasters had befallen them? Ah me, enough to warrant this week's column being dedicated to corrections.

I'll start right off with the corrected version of the mushroom recipe that Mildred found so funny.

BLUE CHEESE MUSHROOMS

- 14 large mushrooms
- 1/4 cup chopped scallions
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1/4 cup crumbled Blue Cheese
- 5 tablespoons fine bread crumbs
- Salt and pepper

Remove the stems from the 14 mushrooms and chop the stems. In a small skillet melt the one-fourth cup butter, add the mushroom pieces and the one-fourth cup scallions. Cook until tender, but not brown. Stir in the one-fourth cup crumbled Blue Cheese and two tablespoons of the bread crumbs. Salt and pepper to taste. Fill the caps with the mixture and sprinkle with the remaining three tablespoons bread crumbs. Bake in 350-degree oven for 10 minutes.

HAMBURGER CASSEROLE

- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 2 green peppers
- 1/4 cup salad oil
- 1 lb. ground meat
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 eggs
- 1 can (No. 303) whole-kernel corn
- 4 medium tomatoes, sliced
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup bread crumbs

Start your oven at 375 degrees and grease a two-quart casserole or baking dish.

Peel and chop the onion, remove the seeds and ribs from the two green pepper and cut into chunks. Cook both vegetables in the one-fourth cup oil until onion is limp, then stir in the one pound of ground beef and continue cooking until meat is brown and crumbly. Remove from heat, cool slightly, and stir in the two teaspoons salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper and the two eggs. Spoon half the mixture into the greased casserole and cover with the one can drained corn. Arrange half the tomato slices over corn and spoon remaining hamburger mixture over top. Cover with the rest of tomato slices. Melt the two tablespoons butter in a small pan, add the one-half cup bread crumbs and cook until brown and crisp. Sprinkle over top of casserole and bake in 375-degree oven for 30 minutes. Serves 6.

ROCKS

- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup butter
- 3 cups flour
- 3 beaten eggs
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon soda dissolved in 1/2 cup hot water
- 1 1/2 cups walnuts, chopped
- 2 cups raisins
- 1 cup chopped dates or candied fruits

Using a large mixing bowl, cream the one-half cup butter, add the one and one-half cups sugar gradually, creaming as you do. Add the three beaten eggs and mix well. Sift together the three cups flour one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon salt and one teaspoon nutmeg.

Dissolve the one teaspoon soda in the one-half cup hot water and add to the creamed mixture alternately with the sifted ingredients. When well blended, add the one and one-half cups chopped nuts, two cups raisins and one cup dates. Mix. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Bake in 350-degree oven about 12 minutes or until nicely browned.

APPLE OAT BREAD

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon allspice
- 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 1 1/2 cups rolled oats
- 1 cup finely chopped and peeled apple
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 2 eggs well beaten
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons dark molasses
- 1/4 cup shortening, melted and slightly cooled

In a mixing bowl sift together the two cups flour, two and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, three-fourths teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg and one-eighth teaspoon allspice. Add the two-thirds cup brown sugar, one and one-half cups rolled oats, one cup finely chopped apple and one-fourth cup nuts. Combine the two well beaten eggs, two-thirds cup milk, two tablespoons molasses and one-fourth cup cooled melted shortening. Add the liquids to the dry ingredients and stir only enough to dampen all flour. Pour into well greased 8x4-inch loaf pan. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven 60 to 65 minutes. Cool about 10 minutes. Turn out on rack to finish cooling. When bread is cool, wrap in wax paper, plastic bag or aluminum foil.

For best slicing and mellowing of flavors, store bread 12 hours or overnight, or freeze before using.

Scout Troop 78 Cleans Up Schoolyard In San Bruno

Boy Scout Troop 78 of Pacific Heights chose the Pacific Heights School for their beautification project last Saturday morning.

Under the supervision of scoutmaster Gus Szekely, assistant scoutmaster Al Halbur, and school principal Robert Fizer, the troop filled potholes, cut and raked weeds, and picked up trash and paper around the building.

Participating in the project were Scouts John Guerrero, Don Gunn, Dave Beach, Marc Stephenson, Steve Carey, Marty Orent, Ricky Halbur, Don Ruggerio, Ken Kriesel, and Leo DeJager. Two prospective scouts, Jim and Frank Weiler, worked with the troop as did Troop Committee men Bob Stephenson, Ken Kriesel, and David Beach. Representing the District Scout Council and working along with everyone else were Neighborhood Counselors John DeJager and Leo DeJager.

During a rest break while the boys were having doughnuts and soft drinks, Fizer expressed his appreciation to them for their help in making the Pacific Heights School a little more attractive for the school opening.

Parents Turn Daly City Home Out For Cap Band Meet For Newlyweds

Who says the parents don't care about their kids any more?

This myth was shattered again last Tuesday, when more than 250 parents and students gathered for the semi-annual Capuchino band student-parent session.

Dale Sly, Band Booster president, presided at the meeting designed to acquaint the parents and students with Cap Band's program for the entire school year. This included reports of the Band Booster organization which numbers all parents and persons interested in promoting Cap's music department, especially Ralph Bredenberg's 100-piece marching band.

Cap's Little Theater was sectioned off as band sections, so Boosters got acquainted or re-acquainted with trumpet, clarinet, etc., students and their parents. A high enthusiasm for the Band's program and projects of the Cap Band Boosters prevailed.

Standing baskets of white gladioli and carnations banked the altar of the Church of the Holy Ghost for last week's wedding of Sandra Lea Garcia and Kenton Lee Lawson.

Msgr. Vincent I. Breen officiated at the 1 p.m. ceremony, and a reception followed in the parish hall of the church. The party was hosted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris L. Garcia of Fremont. Kenton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Lawson, came across the Bay from Burlingame for the wedding.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Sandra recited her vows in a traditional gown of Chantilly lace with a Basque bodice, bouffant skirt, scalloped neckline and redingote front. She added a lace tiered chapel train attached at the shoulder, and a coronet of seed pearls and crystals secured her silk illusion fingertip veil. She carried a cascade of white orchids.

For traveling south along the California coast, the new Mrs. Lawson changed into an olive green print dress with matching hat and white accessories.

Peacock blue Empire gowns with A-line skirts and Venice lace trim were chosen by the attendants. Diane Healy of Fremont served as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids included Kathleen Garcia, sister of the bride, Patricia Selbo and Anita Kemper.

Their headpieces were four-tiered matching veils with seed pearls, and they carried white carnations and pink roses tied with peacock blue streamers.

Mrs. Garcia witnessed her daughter's wedding in a pastel pink Chantilly lace over crepe sheath with pink accessories. Mrs. Lawson chose a gold sheath with gold hat and bag, and both women accented their ensembles with white orchids.

Larry Bolander of Belmont served as best man, and guests were shown to their seats by Clifford Lawson and Ronall Garcia, brothers of the couple, and Bruce Spry.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By DONALD C. WAITE
GEORGE WASHINGTON
SLEPT—BUT NOT COMFORTABLY!

When George Washington tried to sleep, he had miserable nights of it. Folding his six-foot-three frame into too-small, lumpy mattresses led to note after note in his journal: "spent miserable night" . . . "bed lumpy" . . . etc.

No only were the beds lumpy, they were also too short for his build.

The "good old days" were not so good when it came to comfortable beds. The few good bedsteads in the country were imported from England. The rest were hand hewn by pioneers more interested in getting back to work than they were in comfort. Mattresses were stuffed with wool or cornhusks. And worse yet, rooms were kept small so they could be heated by a fireplace, and beds were scaled to size.

The Father of His Country was also probably the father of real king-size sleeping in this country. When he commissioned his handsome four-poster bed for Mt. Vernon, he gave orders that it be big enough for really comfortable sleeping.

Today more and more people are discovering that larger-size bedding means a better night's sleep for anyone taller than five-feet-six.

60x80-inch queen-size is becoming more popular each day as are 80-inch-long twin beds. The ultimate in comfort is the 76x80-inch or 84-inch king-size bed.

We can offer you all sizes in the finest bedding on earth.

A Goal of Fifty Coast Jaycees Seeking Members

The month of September marks the beginning of the Pacifica Jaycees Annual New Membership Drive, with president John Drew setting the membership goal of 50 new Jaycees by June 1969.

In the first two months of the 1968-69 fiscal year, the Pacifica chapter already has welcomed nearly a dozen new members.

The Jaycees, a world-wide organization for young men between 21 and 36 years of age, was founded first as a national organization in 1915 by Henry Giessenberg, Jr. as the Young Men's Progressive Association. Five years later on January 21, 1920, the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce was founded in St. Louis, Missouri.

The California Junior Chamber of Commerce was formed in 1927 with San Diego, California as the first chapter. In the forty plus years since then, California has expanded to more than 10,000 members consisting of nearly three hundred local chapters in twenty-seven districts.

In December of 1944, the Junior Chamber International was established among the nine participating Nations in a World convention in Mexico City.

At a February State board meeting held in Oroville, the Pacifica Junior Chamber of Commerce was chartered.

A National convention in 1965 adopted the change from Junior Chamber of Commerce to the present name of Jaycees.

The Jaycees are an organization of young men dedicated to two main purposes: leadership training and development of the individual along with community development and civic improvement.

The Pacifica Jaycees were initially founded because a group of young men desired a greater voice in the civic affairs of their city. Being a Jaycee not only provides the means of presenting your opinions, it develops the valuable aspects of leadership, planning, and organizing in the young men of today.

The Pacifica Jaycees are interested in strengthening their present organization, consisting of more than 50 members, to help their chapter as well as the community in which they live.

The Jaycees of Pacifica have a history of community projects such as: the Junior Champ Olympics, Rodeo by the Sea, Bass Derby, Battle of the Bands, Welcome Teachers, City Christmas Basket, Outstanding Young Man of the Year Award, and many other similar programs. The Pacifica Jaycees founded the Pacifica Youth Association, Pop Warner, Pacifica Dolphins Football Team and sponsor Boy Scout Troop 269.

To maintain a common bond of interest, the Jaycees established an auxiliary organization called the Jayettes, for the Jaycee wife only. The Jayettes help the Jaycees on their various projects, and of course participate in the social activities, Drew said.

Young men in the 21 to 36 age group and of good moral character are welcome to join the Pacifica Jaycees.

The Jaycee membership is a broad mixture of all walks of life. They are electronic technicians, auto mechanics, insurance salesmen, employees of banks and real estate companies, along with a photographer, lawyer, city councilman, Chamber of Commerce Manager and many others. A number of these people, along with being a Jaycee, serve on the school board, the City Personnel Commission, Park, Beach and Recreation Department and other such civic committees.

The Jaycees have two regular monthly meetings: A dinner meeting on the second Wednesday of each month, and a general membership meeting in the conference room at 80 Eureka Square on the evening of the fourth Wednesday. The meetings start promptly at 8 p.m.

Contact president John Drew, vice president Lee Rieweris, membership chairman Jim Campbell or mail a post card to Pacifica Jaycees, Post Office Box 1031, Pacifica.

LOUANNE HEATH'S DATEBOOK

Still have a few lingering doubts about today's youth and how sincere their concern for others really is? Perhaps this item will help convince you.

After the original item appeared in local papers last spring, announcing a summer Head Start program for Daly City, Mrs. Gertrude Madrosen, program director, was deluged with calls from students wishing to volunteer their services.

More than 40 per-school children took part in the local Head Start program, which got underway on July 15 and ended August 30, and for the entire period Mrs. Madrosen reports that her ten student assistants were faithful and industrious helpers in all phases of program.

Working under Mrs. Madrosen's direction and that of Edward Mosconi, project director and director of research and guidance for the Jefferson Elementary School District, were Debbie Weiner, Phyllis Chiosso, Ann Hockstedler, Ann Nejas-mich, Richard Marcus, Marsha Glassner, Pat Ghusek, Kathy O'Donnell, Douglas Wheeler and Carol Buckenroth. Mrs. Marjorie Chiosso and Mrs. Adelaide Nejosmich also assisted with the program. Wheeler, who attends the University of Iowa and Miss Buckenroth, of the University of Washington, represented the Prince of Peace Volunteers from the Hope Lutheran Church in Daly City.

Mrs. Murray H. Freedman, president of the North Peninsula Circle for the Florence Crittenton Home, has announced that she will hold the first executive board meeting of the fall season on October 2 at the Moonraker in Pacifica.

The meeting, which will conclude with a luncheon, will get underway at 10:30 a.m., Mrs. Freedman said.

Mary's Help Hospital Guild has come up with a distinctively different and most imaginative idea for a fashion luncheon which is on the Guild's October calendar.

According to Mrs. L. Warren Price, chairman of the show, the guild will be presenting fashions combining the Orient with the Emerald Isle. The setting will be the lovely Empress of China Restaurant in San Francisco and the guests will be shown oriental fashions by Lillie of Grant Avenue and Miss Ann Toland of Dublin will have members of the guild model apparel from Irish designers which will be flown in from Ireland for this special showing. Miss Toland will narrate the Irish portion of the showing, Mrs. Price indicated.

An added event will be the presentation of a Round Trip to Oreland for two via Irish International Airlines.

"The response to this luncheon has been so enthusiastic," Mrs. Price said, "that we would advise those interested to make reservations as early as possible in order to insure accommodations."

Mrs. Thomas Caldarola, 300 Dorantes Avenue, San Francisco, will accept orders for tickets which are mailed to her.

Assisting Mrs. Price with the planning are Mrs. Ben Card-nalli, the co-chairman; Mrs. Frank Kelechava, invitations; Mrs. J. J. Fitzgerald, door prizes; Mrs. C. J. Dunow, investments; Mrs. Calderola, publicity, and Mrs. Phillip Glebow and Mrs. Paul Neagle, hostesses.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS...

By Alice Reichert

AFTER A LONG, and OCCASIONALLY sunny summer, the Tigers have returned once again to Terra Nova. Outside of the usual football games, class spirit, rallies, books, etc., last year's Tigers have returned to find that TN has "grown up" some over the summer. Among many other things, we have a new music building (soon to be in use), many new teachers, and some 430 freshmen.

To meet the ever-growing number of students in a comparatively small school, we have to learn a confusing new way of scheduling which is more "flexible." About half the students begin at 7:45 in the morning, others at 8:40; some leave at 1:45, others at 2:40. Although this is the end of early dismissal on Fridays as a reward for clean campus, most are satisfied to either sleep longer in the morning or to have an expanded afternoon.

TERRA NOVA'S JOURNALISM staff is already at work on its 32-page magazine, Tiger Tales, beginning with the appointment of their staff. For the first time, there is no singular editor-in-chief, but two co-editors. Co-editor-in-chief in charge of copy is Joanne Gribble, a junior; co-editor-in-chief in charge of production, Linda Amezcua, a senior; Feature editor, Vicky Bryditzki, senior; assistant feature editor, Steve Kinney, Senior; news editor is this writer, junior; assistant news editor Anne Dryden, a junior, who is also editor of the Terra Nova Press Bureau.

Although plans for the first quarter edition are still preliminary, they include a comprehensive story on the Linda Mar riots and the Wander Inn compromise which resulted from them, an interview with a TN girl who went to Scotland and passed a survival school, the store opened and operated by two Terra Nova seniors last summer, and a study of the disagreements over the KQED sex education film.

County ACS To Elect New Officers

Election of directors and a review of its achievements during the past year will head the agenda for the September 26 annual meeting of San Mateo County Branch, American Cancer Society. The 7 p.m. dinner session will take place at the S.J. Adams Restaurant's new Banquet Room, San Mateo.

As principal speaker, Dr. Roy Deffenbach, director of Peninsula Hospital's radiotherapy department, will explain operation of the new cobalt cancer treatment unit at the hospital. Committee reports will highlight the efforts of volunteers in conducting the most successful fund campaign in branch history as well as its most comprehensive program of year-round public education and service to patients.

Mrs. Richard Fitzgerald of San Carlos, chairman of the "Freewheelers" patient transportation corps, will give special recognition to a number of church groups whose members have supplemented the ACS volunteer motor corps during the past year.

Senior Citizens From Daly City To Santa Cruz

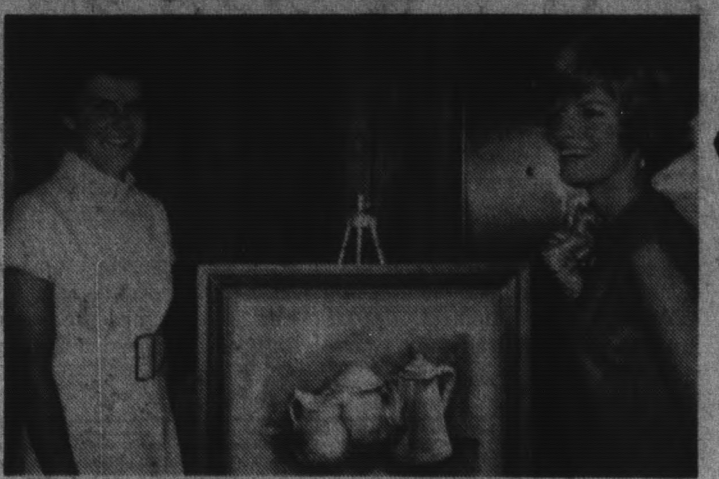

Daly City Senior Citizens will tour Santa Cruz today. The group left by bus from the Lincoln Park Clubhouse at 9 a.m.

Arriving at Capitola, via Los Gatos, they will have lunch in the flower-filled arbor of the Antonelli Brothers Begonia Gardens.

From there they will visit the City of Santa Cruz and the exhibit of The Last Supper before stopping off at the boardwalk.

If time permits, the return trip will include the Big Trees before arriving in Daly City at approximately 6 p.m.

Mammoth Coast Growth Is Seen

An economic development expert from the Bank of America Thursday urged Pacifica businessmen to prepare for mammoth growth on the Coastside during the next 10 or 15 years.

A. R. Bigley, of the Bank of America development department, told chamber of commerce members Pacifica and other coastal cities will absorb most of the county's population growth during coming decades.

"San Mateo County's population is expected to double within 10 or 15 years, and the Bayside cities are already densely populated," he said. "It is reasonable to assume that most of this population growth will take place on the coastside."

Bigley suggested that Pacifica begin preparing for the expected growth through long term planning.

"It is possible to have an increase in population without a corresponding increase in economic growth," he said, "and now is the time to take steps to avoid this sort of development."

The key to successful community development lies in the provision of adequate schools, shopping facilities, hospitals.

Good Shepherd Outing Slated

The first annual parish picnic for members of the Good Shepherd parish will be held at San Mateo Memorial Park on September 29.

Various groups of the parish have planned a get-acquainted type of day, with activities to start at 1:30 p.m. The park opens at 9 a.m. for the early birds.

Pedestrian Hurt; Driver Held in D.C.

An elderly San Francisco man was arrested Thursday and charged with felony drunk driving after his car struck and seriously injured a pedestrian at the intersection of Mission Street and San Jose Avenue in Daly City.

Police said Michele Panarelli, 70, of San Francisco was booked into city jail following the accident shortly before 10:30 p.m.

The victim, Raymond S. Triplet, 25, also of San Francisco, was reported in good condition at Mary's Help Hospital with contusions and abrasions.

According to police, Triplet was crossing the street in the pedestrian walk when he was hit.

Juicy Rib Roast Brightens His Life

A succulent juicy rib roast of tender California beef is one of the nicest ways for the man in your life to embark on his barbecue duties. And present him, too, with a nice sharp carving set and something special to serve the roast on.

Have the butcher bone, roll and tie a two-rib beef roast. Then slash it in about eight places to stuff with a wonderful pungent herb mixture. Roll the roast in hickory salt and coarse ground pepper. As it rotates on the spit, all these delectable flavors permeate the meat. Serve with the natural meat juices.

Steak and lobster is always a man's choice. An elegant steak filet of top quality California beef and fresh California lobsters are perfect for outdoor grilling or indoor broiling. Either way, a cup of lemon butter and a simple salad are the only accompaniments this king sized entree needs.

Pot roast is popular any time of the year. But during the barbecue season here's an effortless variation. Bundle up a flavorful chuck roast with raw potatoes, carrots, onion, and a zesty sauce in one big foil package. Place over the coals and relax! In just two hours you have a hearty pot roast the menfolk will love. Works great at the picnic site, too.

CHUCK ROAST BARBECUE JARDINAIRE

A barbecue meal in one package — the beef becomes accented with a tangy sauce as it grills.

- 1 3 to 5-pound chuck roast
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 sliced large onion
- 5 peeled potatoes
- 10 peeled carrots
- Barbecue Sauce

Rub beef with salt. Brown on grill over medium coals 15 minutes per side. Place on large sheet of heavy aluminum foil. Top with onion; place potatoes and carrots around sides. Cover with Barbecue Sauce; wrap tightly in foil using drugstore fold. Grill over low coals 2 hours turning several times. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

BARBECUE SAUCE: Combine 1/4 cup cooking oil, 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder, 1/2 cup catsup, 1/4 cup steak sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon brown sugar and 2 tablespoons wine vinegar. Cook, stirring constantly, over low heat until mixture boils.

Now School Has Started, Luncheon's A Weekend Event for All

As children settle down to school, luncheon at home usually turns from a daily affair into a week-end event. For most mothers, school lunches and lunch boxes take the stress out of daily meal planning. On crisp fall weekends, though, it's once more lunch in a hurry. Often, the number of hungry mouths seems to multiply geometrically. There's nothing children like better than an impromptu luncheon on party. With some careful pantry stocking during the week, a mother can be prepared for anything from the sudden appearance of a football team to the informal dropping by of the stroller brigade — both mothers and toddlers. For easily-prepared and expandable fall luncheons that will appeal to children of all ages and their mothers, stock up on cans and jars of boned chicken packed in broth. Transform the hearty, high-protein chicken pieces into unusual salads and sandwiches — pretty to look at as well as delicious to taste. Turn your impromptu fall luncheon into a party with festive drinks developed by home economists in the Kitchens of Hawaiian Punch. The following sandwich recipes can easily be doubled. The punches are generous enough so that thirsty football players can come back in mid-afternoon for second draughts.

CHICKEN PINWHEELS
1 can (13-ounce) boned chicken with broth, drained
8 slices salami
Parsley butter
8 slices pumpernickel bread
Cut chicken into wedges. Cut each piece of salami into 3 wedges. Spread bread with parsley butter. Arrange salami and chicken in pinwheels on bread, placing three wedges of salami on each side. Garnish with spoonful of parsley butter in center.
Yield: 8 sandwiches.
1/4 cup butter
1 tablespoon finely minced fresh parsley

1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
Cream butter until fluffy. Add parsley and lemon juice. Spread on bread.
PEACH CHICKEN SALAD
1 can (13-ounce) chicken with broth, diced and drained
1/2 cup finely chopped pecans
1/2 cup chopped canned peaches
1/2 cup celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 cup mayonnaise

2 tablespoons sour cream
Butter
4-6 slices rye bread or bread of your choice
Peace slices for garnish
Combine all ingredients. Serve on buttered bread. Garnish with slice of canned peach.
Yield: 4-6 sandwiches.
CHICKEN BURGERS
1 can (5-ounce) boned chicken with broth, drained and chopped
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped green onion

Zabaglione Nice With Any Spelling

Spell it zabaglione or zabaglione. Either way is correct. But no matter how it's spelled, it's one of the most fascinating desserts in Italian cuisine. You may have tasted zabaglione served in sherbet glasses or big wine glasses "as is." For a delightful variation, couple it with fresh strawberries.

Zabaglione is on the temperamental side. Restaurant chefs, undaunted, whip it up with nonchalance. But home cooks need explicit directions. We hope the following recipe will help you concoct it successfully.

STRAWBERRIES WITH ZABAGLIONE

1 pint fresh strawberries
2 tablespoons sugar
Zabaglione — see recipe below

About an hour before serving time, turn strawberries into a strainer; wash under cold running water. Drain and hull. Slice berries into individual serving dishes. Sprinkle with sugar. Refrigerate until serving time.

Just before serving, make zabaglione; spoon over strawberries. Serve at once.

Makes four servings.

ZABAGLIONE

3 egg yolks, from large eggs
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup dry Marsala

Just before making zabaglione, pour enough boiling water (1 1/2 cups) into the bottom part of a glass double boiler so that the water will come up high but will not touch double boiler top. Place over low enough heat to keep water very hot but not boiling.

Into the top of the double boiler, off heat, turn the egg yolks. With a portable electric beater at highest speed, beat yolks until they begin to thicken and are lemon color. Beat in sugar, a tablespoon at a time. Continue to beat until mixture is very thick and a very pale yellow color.

Place over the very hot water. Beating at highest speed, slowly pour in Marsala. This will thin mixture. Continue beating just until mixture is increased in volume and holds a peak that tilts over slightly when beater is slowly withdrawn — approximately five minutes after Marsala has been added.

Serve at once as directed in Strawberries with Zabaglione recipe.

Note: The zabaglione must be served as soon as it is made. If it is allowed to stand, it will separate and lose a good part of its volume.

1 teaspoon salt
1/16th teaspoon white pepper
1/4 teaspoon sugar

Gently mix together all the ingredients. If vegetables are to be served hot, heat; if to be served cold, chill. Serve in sauce dishes. Makes six servings.

Auto World

Pontiac Motor Division introduced its completely restyled line of 1969 models this week and predicted it would become the third automobile manufacturer to crack the magic million sales mark next year.

In unveiling his division's new offerings, Pontiac General Manager John Z. DeLorean said all of Pontiac's merchandising and marketing plans pointed toward one goal... "to sell over 1,000,000 cars in 1969 and to increase our third-place margin to 250,000 units."

The division, which is selling in third place in the industry for the eighth consecutive year, expects to lead to nearest competitor by 175,000 units at the end of this year.

At a national press preview, DeLorean said no effort was spared to produce a car which combined advanced styling with the utmost in safety and reliability. "This is the first time any manufacturer has offered three completely new car lines in one year," he asserted.

DeLorean also made the following other observations to newsmen: In the 1968 model run just completed, Pontiac produced a record 910,977 units, a gain of 94,000 units over the previous year. It also marked the seventh consecutive year in which deliveries exceeded those of the previous year. He said "no other automobile manufacturer in the United States can point to a similar record."

DeLorean also noted that the Pontiac dealers average yearly sales rate ten years ago was 61 units; five years ago it was 173 and currently it is 261.

"In the 1969 model year we forecast 300 sales per dealer... this could put us in first place in the number of cars sold for each franchised dealer," he added.

In concluding his remarks, DeLorean called the futuristic Grand Prix "a breakaway car." Pontiac sold 30,000 GP's in the 1968 model year and next year, according to DeLorean, this sales figure should be quadrupled... "We expect to sell 120,000 Grand Prix's."

The 3 new Pontiac models go on sale September 26.

Dave Wasmuth, Zone Manager, Pontiac Motor Division, has been elected the new president of the San Francisco Bay Area General Motors Management Club. He succeeds M. T. Anderson, Western Manager of Fleet Sales for United Motors Service. The new secretary is W. M. Davenport, Assistant Zone Manager, Pontiac Motor Division.

High School Work Ahead

Construction on the new $1 1/2-million Serramonte High School in Daly City is progressing at "an excellent rate," Supt. Edward Morgan told trustees of the Jefferson High School District last week.

The contractor is on schedule, or ahead of it, on first phase construction, Morgan said.

Under a new timetable, the first phase must be completed within 255 calendar days, or April 2, 1969.

Phase One consists of the turfed playfield area, including turf, automatic irrigation system, bleachers, track, jump pits and runways, baseball diamonds and backstops, adjacent fencing and traffic posts.

Phase Two is to be completed by September 19 next year. This calls for completion of the entire facility that is to be built at this time for "beneficial occupancy."

"Beneficial occupancy" is the point at which the district can make full use of the facilities.

By Dec. 3, 1969, all work not subject to Phases One and Two shall have been completed, Morgan said.

ELECTS OFFICERS

Jack Mihalovich was elevated to the position of first vice-president and Joseph Friedman was elected second vice-president of Temple Judea, the Temple on Brotherhood Way. Norman Steinberg was appointed to the Board of Trustees to fill the vacancy created by the departure from the Bay Area of Leonard Waserst.

Crash On Skyline Blvd. Hurts Two

A youth and his girl companion were injured when a sports car careened off Skyline Boulevard early today; in other accidents, a Pacifica woman's small car was pinned under a giant gasoline tanker, and a six-year-old was struck by an out-of-control motorbike.

California Highway Patrol officers reported the accidents as follows:

Elvin Spitzer King, 21, unemployed, of 220 Peninsula Avenue, San Mateo, and Diane E. Wolfe, 22, of 731-A Laurel Avenue, Burlingame, were injured early this morning when the sports car driven by King but owned by Miss Wolfe went out of control on a curve of Skyline Boulevard south of Alpine Road and west of Portola Valley, knocked over a highway marker sign, plunged down an embankment and crashed into an oak tree, sending both occupants flying out of the demolished vehicle. Patrolmen R. Wells and R. Robbins Jr., reported.

Both were taken to Stanford Medical Center, where King was treated for numerous serious facial lacerations, possible internal injuries, and numerous fractures, including one to the right ankle. He was transferred to San Mateo County General Hospital. Miss Wolfe suffered a possible fractured right arm and facial injuries.

"We were going around a curve when the rear end began to slide," Miss Wolfe told the patrolmen. "The next thing I remember I was flying out of the car."

Mary Ann Meyer, 29, of 1384 Adobe Drive, Pacifica, was seriously injured when her small foreign-made car was smashed under the tank trailer of a giant gasoline truck Thursday morning on the Coast Highway north of Reina del Mar in Pacifica.

Witnesses told Highway Patrolman D. Gappa that the woman's southbound car began weaving and then slid broadside into the northbound truck-trailer, driven by Marshall Howard Jewell, 54, of San Francisco.

Red Cross Fills Bags For Service

Want to help Santa brighten Christmas for the servicemen in Vietnam?

He needs your help, to fill the gift bags that the Red Cross annually sends to the boys. This year the three Red Cross offices in San Mateo County plan to fill and ship 4,200 gift bags — but they need help, now, since the deadline for shipping the gift bags is October 1.

Volunteers have sewn the gift bags, and are ready to fill them with gift items or contributions from clubs, groups or individuals. The small gift items most appreciated by the men include pocket games, vacuum packed tins of nuts or candies, combs, address books, writing paper with self-seal envelopes, ball-point pens, and plastic toothbrush and soap holders.

This week Gunnery Sgt. Joseph Moreno spoke to the Sequoia Region board of directors, and emphasized the importance of these gifts from home. "Some of the men receive no other gifts from home," he said, "and they need to know that people are thinking of them." Sergeant Moreno, who has served in Vietnam, is now Marine recruiting station at the Redwood City Recruiting Station.

Everyone who wants to be a Santa to a serviceman is invited to contact one of the Red Cross offices, which are San Mateo Region, 1449 Bellevue Avenue, Burlingame; Sequoia Region, 3540 Middlefield Road, Menlo Park; and Coastside Region, 80 Eureka Square, Pacifica.

Overpass Crash; Driver Badly Hurt

A Sunnyvale man who was injured in an auto crash at Junipero Serra Freeway and Alemany Boulevard near Daly City Sunday morning was reported in "very critical" condition today in Mary's Help Hospital.

Witnesses told highway patrolmen that the victim, Glenn J. Beckstrom, 21, of Sunnyvale, was driving on the freeway at 7:15 a.m. when he failed to make a curve and his car crashed into the bridge structure, spun around and flipped into its top.

From France To Spain For Carrousel Del Sol

A major transition has recently occurred at the Carrousel Du Soleil, located adjacent to the Circle Star Theater in San Carlos.

As the name depicts, the restaurant was French in both design and cuisine. But owner Ralph Oswald decided it was time for some changes, and closed the dining room during the month of August while a new look was put into action. Now re-opened under the name of Carrousel del Sol, the restaurant is no longer French but Spanish. Olay! Besides featuring fine Spanish-Continental cuisine (note the menu in their advertisement), authentic Spanish entertainment is spotlighted, featuring Los Patojos, who have never before appeared in Northern California. "The Little Ones," as it is translated, come to the Carrousel direct from appearances in Mexico City, Puerto Vallarta and Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas. The four musicians, who play 22 instruments for your listening and dancing pleasure, Tuesday through Saturday, have a total sound which has been compared to that of the Tijuana Brass. Ample parking space is available.

HAPPY 61ST ANNIVERSARY — This happy occasion will be celebrated Sunday when Lorraine and Nick Gust will host an anniversary dinner at their Nick's restaurant in Pacifica in honor of Nick's mother and father, Anastasia and Charles Gust, who commemorate 61 years of happy married life. The senior Gusts, restaurant pioneers of Pacifica, parleyed a village grocery store into a restaurant of coastside prominence, which Lorraine and Nick later expanded. Now there are two flourishing restaurants, Nick's and the new and nautical Moonraker, as well as a beach front motel.

MERWIN HANSON, a retired U.S. Navy Chief Warrant Officer, has been named harbor superintendent for South San Francisco's Oyster Point Marina. A former maintenance employee with the city, Han-

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

"Queen" Ella Fitzgerald Fairmont Venetian Room

Incomparable Ella Fitzgerald, who returned to the Venetian Room of the Fairmont for a three-week engagement, is covering the bases in all musical areas — from her "Songbook" series of albums, in which she recorded priceless show tunes, to her Capitol albums of "Songs of Faith" . . . Because so many hunters offer their game trophies to Hayward's Hall of Horns, Manager Hans Grahlmann kidding remarks that the hors d'oeuvres are really hors de combat. People travel from miles away to enjoy such specialties as buffalo, elk, caribou or even Arctic shee fish . . . Claude Murray, the Blue Peacock's expert plankman is all smiles this week. His son, a career military man, was in town for a few days and brought along his wife and two children. Claude has been amusing his Blue Peacock patrons with tales of his granddaughter's doings, who he affectionately refers to as the "Blonde Demon."

The Romance and Color of old Mexico, as well as authentic Mexican foods, are all represented at Luz Garcia's famous Sinaloa cantina on Powell Street. Mexican dinners, or American, if you prefer, are served nightly except Sunday, from 6 p.m. Three floor shows nightly . . . Taste tips: Lobster Thermidor, mixed with mushrooms and bound with Sauce Hollandaise, as served at Sebastian's of Belmont. This is only one of several "house specialties" to delight a gourmet's appetite . . . Pert and pretty Avalon Cummins, who appears with husband, Bob, at the Turf and Paddock Club every Friday and Saturday night, actually sings like Wanda Jackson, one of the country's top Country and Western singers. Avalon also provides her share of the "Country-politain" sounds, as she plays both guitar and steel guitar . . . Gourmet, the magazine of good living, will publish the recipe for French Salad Dressing as used exclusively at Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Mateo.

Finocchio's, the colorful upstairs club on San Francisco's Broadway, where some of the world's greatest female impersonators are featured, is the latest "in" place to go after the opera. Some of the stars of the opera, also, are among the ringdiers, and one who has given words of encouragement to chanteuse Laverne Cummings is singer Eleanor Steber. Finocchio's presents four entertaining revues every night . . . Besides showcasing Agent 007's Angeliue at San Mateo's Broadwalk, club owner Bob Colonna presents his newest discovery — Giovanna, a sultry import from Italy, who performs the "sin-sational" "Butterfly Dance of Love." She appears nightly, along with a bevy of Topless cuties . . . The luxurious Lancer Lounge of the South San Francisco Holiday Inn is one of the largest cocktail lounges on the Peninsula. Seating over 90 guests, the lounge is a swingin' place during the luncheon and evening cocktail hours.

A lavish reception for over 150 people was held in the spacious "Banquet" room of The Shadows of San Mateo restaurant following the Burlingame wedding vows of Patricia Watkins and Jack Robert Bolander. Personally attending to the needs of the guests was Bill Mills, the restaurant's executive chef . . . Stunning Pat Montandon, former model, television personality and author of a new book "How to be a Party Girl," has been telling her television fans about the delightful dinner she enjoyed at L'Auberge . . . Mayor Alioto, on Friday Brown Bag Day, dropped by Bruno's in the Mission District and was greeted by a bundle of brown bags stacked on the piano. Never at a loss, Hizzoner promptly chirped, "As long as they contained smoked salmon, it's perfectly okay with me." . . . Many of the fine Italian oil paintings and old brass and crockery which adorned the walls at Oreste's before the recent fire, were saved and now add charm of the old Oreste's to the new.

Art Alfinito, the jovial chief of Rudolfo's Steak House in Palo Alto, pores over the Wall Street Journal, the Mining Journal and half a dozen other periodicals of finance and investment. He is a fountain of reliable information for the shrewd investor who wants money-making tips for the stock market and the tricky gold and silver market, as he munches a delicious steak . . . Over 1,000 guests are expected to attend the San Mateo Police Ball which will be held in the spacious upstairs ballroom of Millbrae's Thunderbolt Hotel Saturday evening. The immense ballroom will provide plenty of dance room for the yearly sell-out crowd . . . Doros on SF's Montgomery Street gets a big play from auto dealers. Among them recently was a group of 18 Chrysler dealers from the Peninsula and nine Ford dealers from San Francisco. Their slogan must be "You really auto dine at Doros for the best."

Burlingame's Black Horse Now 2 Years Old

Thursday, September 19, Burlingame's Black Horse will leave the yearling stage and join the ranks of full-fledged two-year-olds. It's the second anniversary for the plush Primrose Avenue cocktail lounge, and owners Bob Roselli and Bob Batimovich are planning a free buffet dinner for their Thursday crowds from 5 to 8 p.m. Live music, featuring the Pete Malorana Trio, will begin at 9 p.m.

Whether you're entertaining luncheon or dinner guests, the menu at Atherton's Cote d'Azur restaurant is a gourmet's delight in Continental cuisine. All meals are served by candlelight, with individual cart service. Pianobar entertainment nightly from 8 p.m., except Sunday.

Foster's Features A Super Special

For Peninsula's commuters to San Francisco, Foster's covers all the bases from early morn till late evening. Breakfast from $1; coffee break, 25 cents; luncheon, $1.15; a tasty tea time feast for just 30 cents, and a budget dinner for $1.49. Is it any wonder Foster's has remained a "Foodmark" for over 45 years.

There's a dining and entertainment excitement every night except Monday at the Balkan Village. First, let suave European maitre d' Angelo Lazari suggest a Middle Eastern dish and the wine to go with it. Afterwards, enjoy the music of the Balkan Bouzouki Orchestra. Wednesdays, Shirley Eastman teaches the dances of the Middle East, and every Friday, Saturday and Sunday the fabulous Klefite Dancers perform their authentic tavern dances of Greece.

Prime Rib Steaks And Spareribs At Scotty Campbell's

Long a traditional restaurant name on the Peninsula, Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City is a dining mecca for countless numbers from far and wide. Owners Theresa and Bud Urban and Mary Lou Francis, Theresa's sister, feature a variety of steaks, prime ribs of beef and barbecued baby ribs as house specialties. Other menu pleasures are Jumbo Lobster Tail, Chicken and Beef Brochette, and Flambée. To finish a palatable meal, try the Maerd Eip dessert, Scotty Campbell's own special cheese pie. For before and after-dinner cocktails, a soft lighted bar-lounge is an inviting atmosphere for light conversations. A colorful collection of antiques and artifacts from all over the world are comment catchers.

Fireside A Target For Entertainment

Entertainment at the Fireside Lounge continues to "blaze" with tops in the Topless field. Phil Maita has come up with just about every idea in the book, except to have one of his maidens zoom down El Camino Real on a white horse. Come what may, the Fireside is a target for an evening of fun, with entertainment scheduled nightly.

Joe's of Hillsdale restaurant features a varied menu of Italian and Continental cuisine, plus the popular a la carte items. Charcoal broiled steaks and Veal Parmigiana are among the specialties of the house, as well as a variety of pastes.

Lovely Helen Firman, well known Bay Area entertainer, is the Wednesday through Saturday musical attraction in the lounge of Bruno's of San Mateo. Sing along with Helen when she breaks into a familiar tune. Even restaurant co-owner Tom Zucchelli, who must have one of the deepest voices ever recorded, is a vocal participant.

Vince's Is Fast-Growing Restaurant

Vince's Italian and Sea Food restaurant, one of the fastest growing eating spots on the Peninsula, is piloted by the Licata family, Vince and his two sons, Louis and Anthony. It wasn't so many years ago that this industrious man brought Fisherman's Wharf to the Peninsula by introducing a portion of North Beach's menu of Italian dishes. A comfortable cocktail lounge, situated just off the entrance room, is a relaxing rendezvous for working people in the area, and for before and after-dinner sipping. For take-out orders and fresh sea food for the home table, Vince Delicatessen and Fish Depot is conveniently located next door to the restaurant.

Green Bag Traced To Truck Firm

The mysterious "green bag" filled with $2 million in cancelled checks found at a South San Francisco service station Sunday has been traced to a trucking firm serving San Francisco International Airport, police said today.

Police Det. James Keane said the bag of checks was turned over to the trucking firm yesterday, and the contents were apparently "still intact."

Keane said the bag was en route from a San Francisco bank to the airport for shipment to Los Angeles when it somehow "strayed from its course."

The trucking firm involved is presently investigating the incident, and police refused to identify the firm "until the investigation is completed."

Checks in the bag were drawn some out-of-state concerns, on a number of banks, including Keane said, and none of the checks was negotiable.

"The checks have been returned to the bank which originally dispatched them," Keane said, "and first indications are that none of the checks are missing."
